

FRENCH, BRITISH AGREE TO GERMAN DEMANDS FOR ARMS AND DEATH OF VERSAILLES TREATY Ring, Believed Macon Loot, Is Found on Smith

HARVEY, PARTNER MAY BE RETURNED TO GEORGIA SOIL

Macon Police Chief Plans Trip to Richmond, Va., To Aid in Investigation of Activities of Seven Captured Suspects.

RING WAS STOLEN IN SAFE-CRACKING

John Randall, One of Group Taken Into Custody, Is Fugitive From Chain Gang in Georgia.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 3.—(P)—Police today found an unusually made diamond ring in the seam of James Aubrey Smith's trousers as the Georgia gangster and his six suspect companions were subjected to a thorough search.

The seven, with a six-week-old infant, were arrested yesterday in two carefully planned police raids. Nitroglycerine, fuse, detonating caps and a full kit of burglars' tools also were found by the police.

In a telephone conversation with Chief of Police Ben T. Watkins, of Macon, Ga., officers here learned that the ring fitted the description of one stolen from the safe of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company here recently. Watkins told the Richmond officers that he probably would come here in a few days to aid in the investigation.

The whole group was held in the city jail this afternoon. They will appear in police court tomorrow to answer charges of possession of burglars' tools and explosives. Meanwhile the Richmond police were investigating the possibility that they might be returned to Georgia where prison terms await Randall and possibly Smith and Harvey.

Those held, besides Smith, are: John Leland Harvey, alias W. B. Denton, 28, former Georgia convict; John Randall, 30, of Ashland, Ala., a fugitive from Georgia; Elsie McCall, 28, and Lois Reid, 21, both of Macon; Morris Twyman, 24, and his wife, Beattie Twyman, of Richmond. The Twymans' baby was also taken in the raid.

Police, acting on a tip surrounded

Armed Guard Moves Negro to Trial Scene

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 3.—(P)—Surrounded by 200 steel helmeted Mississippi militiamen with fixed bayonets, James H. Coney, confessed butcher-slayer of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Turner at Cleveland last December 8, was put aboard a "lynch-proof" train here tonight at 11 o'clock and the militia-laden locomotive chugged off for the delta, scheduled to reach its destination by daylight.

The giant negro ghoul, securely manacled, was hoisted in a steel-plated baggage car which was between four passenger coaches filled with selected national guardsmen, all fully equipped with weapons of modern warfare.

Removal of the delta negro from the Hinds county mob-proof jail to the waiting train just two blocks away required more than an hour.

Senate Bloc Moves To Bar Dole Authority

Democratic and Republican Clique Will Seek To Strike Provision From Work Relief Measure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—A sizable group of senators today decided to attempt to strike from the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill all authority for President Roosevelt to continue the dole after the $880,000,000 earmarked for tapering off outright charity is exhausted.

This agreement participated in by both democrats and republicans, was reached at a series of conferences following the split yesterday among democrats on the senate appropriations committee over the power delegated the president in the measure.

An effort to require that the $4,000,000,000 fund be limited to work relief will be made when the appropriations committee meets at the call of Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, chairman. In the event the committee fails to adopt the proposal, it is to be offered from the senate floor as an amendment.

The uneasiness within the administration over the situation in the appropriations committee, continued today, especially because of Senator Glass' opposition to the proposed extension of the authority.

The matter was discussed over the week-end by President Roosevelt and some senate democrats. It was decided to withhold White House pressure until after the senate committee acts. Whatever changes made by the senate toward restricting the president, an administration spokesman said, probably could be compromised when the bill goes to conference with the house.

Senator Glass today was crisp and blunt in his refusal to discuss the

TAX BILLS BANNED, STATE ASSEMBLY TO RESUME WORK

Both Houses Will Focus Attention on Talmadge Measures; Regents' Bill Coming Up Tuesday.

Its program rent asunder by a statement from Governor Talmadge in which he let it be known that there would be no new tax measures given his approval, the general assembly will reconvene this morning after a week-end recess to eliminate those measures unsatisfactory to the governor and give its attention to others which meet with his approval.

Speaker E. D. Rivers, of the house, said Sunday night that the house leadership had not determined what will be taken up in that body today, and likewise the senate is without an outstanding measure ready for consideration.

The house today was to have taken up the proposal of the Richmond county delegation to place a tax on chain stores, but the governor's expressed desire for no new tax measures is expected to place this in the discard along with other bills tending to tax certain interests.

Regents' Bill Coming Up.
In the senate it is understood that no bills of importance will be taken up until the governor's bill to curtail the powers of the board of regents is reached Tuesday. This measure, if approved by the house, is with the senate university committee, which has been instructed to report it Tuesday.

In addition to curbing the powers of the board of regents, this bill requires that all matriculation, laboratory and other fees as well as athletic receipts from athletic contests be turned into the state treasury before being allocated back to the units from which they came, and there is some opposition in the senate to putting the athletic fees in the treasury where they can be paid out only on warrant of the governor.

Chairman Marion Smith, of the senate committee, expressed his personal opposition to the athletic receipt program. The board of regents is expected to have a meeting today and take a definite stand on the plan, which was incorporated in the bill by the house.

The governor's statement issued Saturday in which he vetoed the curtailment of the prohibition committee, which is to see its first action today when the house temperance committee, headed by Representative T. V. Williams, Coffee county, has its organization meeting.

Waiting on Committee.
The house and senate both have been legalized and outright repeal measures, but all groups are waiting for the committee to act.

Williams said Sunday that he expected that the committee would set hearings on beer and general repeal for this week, and added that he hoped the committee would be able to give the house a report on both plans before the end of the week.

"As I see it, there is nothing for the legislature to do about beer, but what tax to be put on it," Williams said. "We have the beer, and most certainly the state ought to get its revenue."

Williams will be busy with another matter this week, as he is chairman of the Huey Long reception committee, the Louisiana senator having accepted the invitation of the house to address it. No definite announcement has been made regarding the time of the Long speech, which is expected Tuesday or Wednesday.

The report, which the auditorium for the Long speech have been dropped. Having been invited by the house, he will speak in the house. If the crowd is too big and the speaker is able to hold the talk will be made from the steps of the capitol.

HUEY MUST HAVE HALL TO DELIVER SPEECH HERE

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 3.—(UP)—Senator Huey Long may speak in Atlanta Tuesday or Wednesday if they will hire a hall for him, he said tonight.

Long said he talked "to my good friend Governor Gene Talmadge over the phone today" about the invitation that the Georgia legislature extended him to address it.

"I told him I wouldn't speak unless they arranged to get an auditorium where I could make a 'share-the-wealth' talk."

Continued in Page 8, Column 5.

PHONOGRAPH, CAST FINAL 'AGE IN HOLE' OF BRUCE DEFENSE

Record of Condon Mimic of Suspect's Voice and Shoe Impression in Cemetery To Be Exhibited.

By HARRY FERGUSON.
(Copyright, 1935, by United Press.)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 3.—(UP)—At the close of testimony run too strong against Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the dying days of this trial, his lawyers are ready to stake everything on an attempt to prove that his innocence is proven on wax and carved into plaster.

A photograph record and the cast of a footprint are the aces tucked under the sleeve of Edward J. Reilly's morning coat.

Tonight it looked as though the counsel for the defense would have to play them both—and quickly.

That is why the voice of Jafie may be heard booming through this courtroom again, even if he never comes back to Flemington.

In the possession of the United States department of justice there is a photograph record that Dr. John F. Condon made long before many people knew there was such a person as Bruno Richard Hauptmann. On this record Jafie turned mimic and tried to render an impersonation of the voice of the man to whom he talked in two New York cemeteries and to whom he finally paid $50,000 of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's money.

More than two weeks ago Jafie came down here from the Bronx and swore that this man was Hauptmann. The record—filled with Jafie's rendition of such phrases as "Hey, dok," "I was made in the days when all clues to the Lindbergh crime were running into blind alleys and the authorities were snatching at anything that promised a solution."

The department of justice may live to rue the day it ever recorded Jafie's voice, for what started out to be a subtle piece of strategy on the part of the authorities may turn out to be the one thing that tips the scales in Hauptmann's favor.

State Silent.
The state has been strangely silent about the record and the plaster cast that was made from a footprint on a fresh grave in St. Raymond's cemetery near where Jafie and the man called "Doc" struck their bargain for the life of the Lindbergh baby, who, even then, was dead.

It remained for Defense Counsel Reilly to bring the matter up in a public cross-examination, he obtained from Thomas H. Sisk, department of justice agent, the admission that the record and the footprint had been used in the case.

Reilly asked. The department of justice evaded the question at first and finally said he would have to obtain permission of Attorney-General Homer S. Cummings in Washington.

"I'll send a wire to Washington, asking that these things be produced in the interest of justice and a fair trial."

Back came the word from Washington that the two exhibits would be made available any time Reilly wanted them.

It is a long and desperate gamble that the defense is taking. If Reilly sets up a phonograph in court and puts on a record in which Jafie's words croaking through the court in a fairly reasonable imitation of Hauptmann's voice, it will be damaging evidence against the prisoner.

And if it can be shown that Hauptmann's shoe fits exactly into the plaster footprint it will be even more damaging.

But there is always a chance that Hauptmann's shoe will be a size or two larger than the cemetery footprint and that Jafie's impersonation will bear no relation to Hauptmann's voice.

Reilly is ready to take that chance. For once, he is not bluffing. He announced it would recall Lindbergh as a rebuttal witness so he could cement in the minds of the jury his testimony that Hauptmann was the voice he heard calling "Hey, dok" over here in St. Raymond's cemetery that night. Lindbergh was sitting in an automobile nearby, convinced that at last he was about to recover his son.

And if Lindbergh is not enough, the

Continued in Page 8, Column 5.

U. S. To Punish Nations Discriminating in Trade

Government Will Withhold Tariff Benefits From Countries Hindering Sale of American-Made Goods.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—The United States is preparing, it was learned from authoritative sources today, to take action against those nations which persist in discriminating against American goods.

A "black list" of discriminating nations is now being composed by the trade agreements committee. This probably will be used as the basis for determining which countries, not parties to a reciprocal trade agreement, will receive the benefit of the tariff reductions it makes.

The committee is composed of experts from governmental departments. The list of offending nations is expected to be made public with the signing of the pending trade pact with Belgium. This agreement is scheduled to be the next among the 15 now being negotiated.

35 Countries Listed.
Government sources have, however, compiled a list of 35 countries which have exchange control regulations which affect to some degree American trade. It was said, however, that charges of discrimination were not warranted against some of these nations.

France and Germany among other states have quota or other import restrictions, stringent sanitary regulations, and many other rules designed to decrease or prohibit certain imports.

If the decision is reached that a country's restrictions are aimed at American products, officials said, the latter under a strict interpretation of the unconditional most-favored-nation clause, incorporated in all pacts to be negotiated, would expect to receive tariff benefits or concessions granted Belgium.

Secretary Hull, however, officials said, plans to withhold any benefits granted in the Belgian agreement from third nations which discriminate against American goods and will probably point the offenders out at the time the pact is signed.

Secretary Hull may use the list to

SENATOR FULGHUM IS DEAD AT MAISON NEAR ROSSVILLE

Abbeville Member of Upper House Succumbs To Short Illness.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 3.—(P)—Senator Charles Fulghum, of the 48th Georgia district and resident of Abbeville, died in a hospital here early today after an illness of several days.

His body was taken away today to Abbeville where funeral services will be held today or tomorrow.

Senator Fulghum was in Atlanta attending sessions of the general assembly when he became ill. He started to his home in Abbeville, but stopped here January 27 to receive treatment. He was admitted to the hospital and soon his condition began to improve.

The wounded man was Corbet Davis also described as a sympathizer.

The sergeant said a mill worker, who stuck to his job after the strike was called, was charged with the shooting. He was listed as Talmadge Lindsey. He surrendered to Sheriff J. C. Keown, of Walker county, Georgia, immediately after the shooting and was turned over to Tennessee officers.

Sheriff Keown at once telephoned Adjutant General Lindley Camp in Atlanta to inform him that the shooting had created a somewhat tense situation, discussing the advisability of once more having national guardsmen sent here to keep order. Later it was decided not to seek troops at this time, as the situation grew quieter.

'Coppers Threaten To Liberate Comrades

LEPANTO, Ark., Feb. 3.—(P)—The guard around the city jail here was increased to 18 heavily armed officers today after Sheriff J. B. Duhard said he had heard threats that an attempt would be made to liberate four organizers for the Southern Tenant Farmers' Union, arrested last night on charges of "disturbing the peace."

At the same time, Sheriff Duhard said he would take precautions to preserve order at Harrisburg, the county seat of Poinsett county, next Thursday when he said the union planned to march to the public square to prepare demands for relief.

Ward H. Rodgers, discharged federal emergency relief administration instructor; Lucien Koch, director of Commonwealth College, Mena, Ark.; Alley Delany, Commonwealth student, and Baker, described as a radical Poinsett county tenant farmer, were arrested during a meeting of 100 negro and white sharecroppers at Lepanto late yesterday.

Ten Are Wounded In French Rioting

PARIS, Feb. 3.—(P)—Serious rioting broke out in Lille today, where a clash between war veterans, radicals and police left 10 seriously wounded, raising fears in the capital of violent demonstrations on the anniversary of the fatal riots in Paris, February 6.

Police who sought to prevent a forbidden parade in Lille engaged in street battles with the veterans and radicals in Lille, marking the first disorderly commemoration of "bloody Tuesday."

OTHER NATIONS INVITED TO JOIN MILITARY ACCORD

Inclusive Scheme for Simultaneous Settlement of All Important European Problems Officially Announced.

COUNTRIES BOUND TO LEND QUICK AID

Excepting Secret Pacts, Agreement Regarded as Most Important Undertaken Since War.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—(P)—France and England yielded today to Adolf Hitler's insistence that military articles of the historic Versailles treaty be scrapped.

Thus German rearmament would be made legal under the approval of two of Europe's leading powers.

An ambitious scheme to settle all of Europe's important problems was adopted, an official announcement said. Sections of the treaty providing for demilitarization of the left bank of the Rhine would be left intact.

The agreement, one of the most momentous since the World War, is expected to be approved by other European powers. Italy is known to favor modification of the Versailles treaty.

Britain and France also agreed to a far-reaching military air alliance, under which each country would be bound to come to the immediate assistance of the other if she were attacked from the air.

The stamp of British approval also was placed upon the record. Laval, French premier, and in an official communique Britain reiterated her position among the powers "which will consult together if the independence and integrity of Austria is menaced."

Returning to a hotel after the brief final meeting at No. 10 Downing street last night, the French and British ministers relaxed after a day and night of almost constant work on the agreement.

Laval's Comment.
French Foreign Minister Pierre Laval said "I hope with all my heart that Germany will receive the results of our work with sympathy. We have worked for peace. The declaration would not be complete on our part if I did not underline the spirit of friendship which has been the basis of these problems with our British colleagues."

The view was taken by both British and French officials that the program was so comprehensive and complete that Germany this time must give a direct yes or no answer.

Any other reply from Germany, officials here believed, would indicate clearly that the Hitler government intends to continue arming. They stressed the desire for immediate negotiations with Berlin as contemplated in the communique.

"After the Saar plebiscite and the Rome accords," said Foreign Minister Laval, "our conversations in London mark an important date in diplomatic history. We hope that Germany will respond to the pressing call we are making to her. Our declaration emphasizes the solidarity of interests between France and Britain."

Flaudin Is Absent.
The French premier, Pierre Etienne Flaudin, remained in the country today and did not return for the final conference, although he was present at last night's sessions, which adjourned close to midnight. He allowed his swarthy little colleague, Laval, to take the plaudits and the praise for the diplomatic achievement.

This was the part of the prime minister's address which already held in diplomatic quarters that the diminutive Laval was the real hero of the day. It was observed on all sides that in obtaining an air alliance with Britain he achieved

Continued in Page 4, Column 7.

The News at a Glance

LOCAL:
Jack Savage, assistant city attorney, slated to be named to succeed the late James L. Mayson as city attorney at council's session this afternoon. Page 1.
Bandits and burglars get total of $260 in cash in addition to jewelry and other valuables, in series of robberies here. Page 1.
Its program put into confusion by Talmadge edict that he will approve no new tax measures today, assembly will reconvene today, with no important proposals on slate for immediate action. Page 1.
Adoption of uniform narcotic law in Georgia to prevent state from being "dumping ground" for addicts and peddlers urged by Mrs. Hamilton Wright, leader in move to wipe out drug traffic. Page 3.
Average woman clerk in Atlanta is 25 years of age and gets $80 monthly. United States survey of conditions in various fields here reveals. Page 8.
Dr. Walter Biering, president of the American Medical Association, to address Fulton County Medical Society at meeting tonight. Page 14.
Civilization based on Word of God urged by Governor Talmadge in talk at Druid Hills Baptist church. Page 8.

DOMESTIC:
RICHMOND, Va.—Diamond ring of unusual design found sewed in seam of Aubrey Smith's trousers today identified as having been stolen in Macon, Ga., safe-cracking recently; Macon police chief coming here to aid investigation. Page 1.
WASHINGTON—United States "black list" nations discriminating against American goods. Page 1.
FLEMINGTON—Defense may use phonograph record, footprint cast as final "aces" in trial of Hauptmann. Page 1.
WASHINGTON—Senator Wheeler asserts government ownership of railroad "the only way out." Page 2.
BATON ROUGE—Militia evacuated Baton Rouge today while Senator Huey Long, keeping to his hotel suite under heavy guard as charge of a "murder plot" against him continued to echo, planned further moves to quell his political foe. Page 1.
The Square Deal Association, spearhead of the Long opposition, declined to recognize any truce in the war upon the Louisiana "dictator." Page 1.
LONDON—France and England permit German rearmament and pave way for German re-entry into League of Nations. Page 1.
DESSAU, Germany—Hugo Junkers, inventor and designer of airplanes, dies. Page 8.

NATIONAL POWER RATE SURVEY
Shows Amazing Variations
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—An electric rate study which showed amazing variations, ranging from 60 cents for 15 kilowatt hours in Cleveland to $1.71 for the same amount of current in Miami, Fla., was made public today by the federal power commission.
The report, begun last April, was described as preliminary and the commission reminded that the survey was a "fact finding study" and not an investigation of the "reasonableness" of the charges. The survey, however, mentioned "wide discrepancies" in the rates several times.
The analysis covered the cost of residential electric service in the 191 cities of more than 50,000 population.

ATLANTA	The Weather	GEORGIA
Fair Cooler		Fair Cooler
ATLANTA—One year ago today (Monday, February 5): High, 58; low, 40; clear.
Georgia: Fair, slightly colder in south portion Monday, Tuesday fair.
Florida: Fair Monday and Tuesday.
Kentucky and Tennessee: Fair Monday, Tuesday partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
North Carolina: Fair, colder in central and east portions Monday, Tuesday fair.
South Carolina: Fair, slightly colder in east and south portions Monday, Tuesday fair.
Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Extreme Northwest Florida: Generally fair Monday and Tuesday.
Arkansas and Oklahoma: Fair Monday and Tuesday; warmer Tuesday.
Texas: Fair Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy.
YOUR WANT AD will be most effective if placed in the newspaper with the greatest circulation—The Constitution. Call WALnut 6565 for Results.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Weather bureau records of temperature and rainfall for the 24 hours ending 8 a. m. in the principal cities showing areas and elsewhere.
STATION—Sun. Sat. Precip. High. Low.
Atlanta 60 32 0.00
Albany 60 32 0.00
Asheville 54 42 0.00
Birmingham 40 34 0.00
Boston 40 32 0.00
Buffalo 38 30 0.00
Chicago 40 36 0.00
Cincinnati 42 32 0.00
Denver 38 30 0.00
Detroit 38 30 0.00
El Paso 44 30 0.00
Galveston 74 50 0.00
Hartford 42 28 0.00
Jacksonville 68 42 0.00
Kansas City 48 38 0.00
Key West 66 34 0.00
Little Rock 60 42 0.00
Los Angeles 72 66 0.00
Miami 76 54 0.00
Memphis 58 40 0.00
Meridian 66 40 0.00
Miami 66 40 0.00
Minneapolis 34 22 0.00
New Orleans 70 44 0.00
New York 44 34 0.00
Philadelphia 36 34 0.00
Portland 36 34 0.00
Richmond 58 40 0.00
St. Louis 44 40 0.00
St. Paul 38 30 0.00
San Francisco 30 22 0.00
Savannah 68 40 0.00
Tampa 66 40 0.00
Vicksburg 66 40 0.00
Washington 44 32 0.00
Wilmington 60 40 0.00

ONE DEAD, ONE HURT IN LOUISIANA WRECK

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 3.—(AP)—One man was killed and another seriously injured today when the automobile in which they were riding left the highway two miles north of Camp-ti in Natchitoches parish. Four other men in the car escaped with only bruises and scratches. J. A. Caldwell, 37, died almost instantly of a fractured skull. Gus Ferguson was reported by attendants at Natchitoches hospital to be suffering from a dislocated shoulder, and probably a dislocated hip.

Three Volcanoes Erupt After New Zealand Storm

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Active eruptions broke forth today from New Zealand's three majestic volcanic cones, the first time in four years that all three had been active simultaneously. Preceded by violent thunderstorms, famous Mount Ngaurunoe broke out yesterday. All night long it continued throwing up immense columns of smoke and steam. Clouds of steam rose from the crater of Mount Ruapehu, while the Ketetani Springs on the side of Mount Tongariro became active.

U. S. OWNERSHIP OF RAILS IS URGED

Sen. Wheeler, Montana, Assails 'Stupidity' of Private Management.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler, democrat, of Montana, tonight demanded government operation and ownership of railroads as a means of escaping "stupidity or stupidity" in management. In an address the Montana senator described government ownership as "the only way out of the perplexing difficulties facing private ownership and management of this most important of public utilities." "We can't let railroads out of stupidity or stupidity," he said. "We must have transportation at any cost. I have been preparing a bill for government ownership of all railroads in the country. I have learned that government ownership does not necessarily improve matters, but after an intensive study of the pros and cons, I am convinced today that the government ownership of railroads is the only way out of the perplexing difficulties facing private ownership and management of this most important public utility." Continuation of private ownership for the present, at least, was recommended, however, by Joseph B. Eastman, railroad co-ordinator, in his message on transportation last week. There has been no indication that the administration intends to change government ownership in the near future. "It is impossible to unify railroads under private control," Wheeler said. "Most of them are in a hopeless financial mess. Since the panic of 1929 it has been necessary for the federal government to lend huge sums of money to the railroads in order that they might continue to pay interest on their bonds and to maintain their service. It is my belief that much of these huge sums will never be recovered by the government. "I further believe that the present plight of the railroads has not been caused so much by mismanagement of executives and managers as by the manipulation of railroad funds and securities owned by bankers and stock promoters."

My Cookery News Notes

By RUTH CHAMBERS

Editor's Note: The writer is Ruth Chambers, staff member of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, recognized authority on cookery of all kinds and especially meat cookery and the planning of meals around the meat course. Experimental cookery has developed a kind of new information about cooking meat, which is contrary to old ideas. This series of articles will give our readers this new information in helpful form, and will also give a series of excellent recipes and suggestions for serving the meat course of the meal.

THERE'S VERSATILITY IN A PORK CHOP.

Whenever I think of a pork chop I am ready to shout praises to its great versatility. It is so generous of its flavor and combines so happily with fruit or vegetables, be they exotic or just common garden variety. They are good cut thick or cut thin—although I'll admit my preference for a thick pork chop, but then that is true of any steak or chop. There is a tendency for the meat to become dry in cooking before it becomes brown, if it is not cut thick enough.

There is one place where the pork isn't adaptable, however, and that is in the matter of temperature—pork must be cooked at a low temperature, always.

Don't Hurry Pork Cooking.

If you would have pork chops so tender that you can cut them with a fork, and so delicious that they are a great favorite, don't hurry with the cooking; give them plenty of time. Pork needs long thorough cooking to develop the flavor, and, since a large part of the flavor is contained in the fat, slow cooking is necessary if that delicious flavor is to be retained.

Pork chops may be baked or cooked on top of the stove, whichever you prefer, but be sure that they are cooked slowly. If cooked on top of the stove, first brown the chops on both sides, then reduce the temperature, cover tightly and let them cook until done. If cooked in the oven, set the oven regulator at about 350 degrees F., the temperature of a moderate oven, and let them bake slowly.

Baked Stuffed Pork Chops. Pork chops cut double thickness are delicious when stuffed.

6 thick pork chops.
2 cups toasted bread crumbs.
2 tablespoons butter.
1 small onion, diced.
Cream to moisten dressing.
Salt.
1 tablespoon green pepper, diced.
Have the pork chops cut double thickness.

Five Are Rescued From Burning Yacht

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 3.—(UP)—Five persons were rescued today from the flaming tender of the yacht Buccaneer, off Dry Tortugas. The boat is owned by Lawrence Jones, Louisville (Ky.) manufacturer.

Jones, his daughter, Mrs. Hickman and John Page, all of Louisville; Ted Canova and Raoul Dominguez, members of the yacht's crew, were taken off the tender by six FERA workmen at Fort Jefferson who were fishing nearby when an unexplainable explosion occurred on the tender. Canova, who was in the bow of the boat, was hurled into the water. He received a compound fracture of the right foot and a fracture of the left ankle. Dominguez was bruised about the head and shoulders. Flames were nearing the tender's stern where the aged manufacturer and his guests were fishing when the rescue boat appeared. Shortly afterward the $50,000 tender burned to the water's edge.

TONG WAR IS FEARED IN FRISCO'S CHINATOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—(AP)—San Francisco's famed Chinatown was blockaded by police tonight on grounds of threatened factional trouble in the flight of a girl bride purchased by a member of the Four Families, a leading tong. Occidentals were kept out and motor car traffic was routed around the oriental section.

Twenty-five men of the Chinatown detail warned visitors to keep out of the area unless they had business there. Traditional firecrackers were banned on the eve of the Chinese new year's celebration on the fear they might mask gunfire.

MEN'S SUITS

25¢

PLAIN
DRESSES

Call for and Deliver—3 for 75¢

HOWARD CLEANERS

463 Ponce de Leon Ave.

488 Peachtree St.

65 Edgewood

456 Pryor St.

PHONE—WA. 1489—WA. 1490

THIS WEEK WE CONTINUE OUR FOUNDERS SALE

Another big week of record-breaking values!

THESE PRICES EFFECTIVE
THROUGH THURSDAY

HEINZ
Assorted
SOUPS
Except Clam Chowder
and Consomme
2 CANS 25¢

EATMOR BRAND
Macaroni
OR
Spaghetti
3 PKGS. 13¢

IONA—DESSERT HALVES
PEACHES NO. 2 CAN 15¢

SULTANA—BROKEN SLICES
PINEAPPLE NO. 2 CAN 17¢

OLYMPIA BRAND SOAKED
PEAS 3 NO. 2 CANS 20¢

IONA SALAD
DRESSING QUART 25¢

COLD STREAM
PINK SALMON TALL CAN 10¢

SPARKLE
Gelatin Dessert
6 PKGS. 25¢

WESSON
OIL FINT 19¢

IONA
PORK & BEANS
3 1-LB. CANS 13¢

WHITEHOUSE
EVAPORATED
MILK
SMALL CAN 3¢ TALL CAN 6¢

World's three most popular brands of
COFFEE
EIGHT O'CLOCK 1-LB. 19¢
Mild and Mellow
RED CIRCLE 1-LB. 23¢
Rich and Full-Bodied
BOKAR 1-LB. 27¢
Vigorous and Winery

AMERICAN HOME
COOKIES
Old-Fashioned Butter Wafers
2 17-OZ. PKGS. 25¢

VEGETABLES AND FRUITS
NO. 1 MAINE COBBLER

POTATOES 5 LBS. 8¢

These potatoes are first quality... Specially selected to meet A&P's high standards... Ideal for baking, boiling, frying or your favorite potato recipes.

FLA. GRAPEFRUIT LARGE SIZE EA. 5¢
FLA. GRAPEFRUIT MEDIUM 3 FOR 10¢
WINESAP APPLES DOZEN 10¢
YELLOW ONIONS 3 LBS. 12¢
RUTABAGA TURNIPS 3 LBS. 7¢
CALIF. CARROTS 2 BUN. 15¢
BANANAS 3 LBS. 12¢

CABBAGE N. Y. DANISH 2 POUNDS 5¢
LETTUCE CALIF ICEBERG HEAD 8¢

AT A&P MEAT MARKETS

FRESH PORK LOIN

ROAST END CUTS LB. 20¢

STEW BEEF RIB OR BRISKET 2 LBS. 25¢
VEAL SHOULDER STEAK - LB. 23¢
VEAL LOIN STEAK - LB. 35¢
COPELAND'S SAUSAGE Fresh Country 35¢
FANCY SELECT OYSTERS PINTS 32¢
MEAT LOAF FRESH, PORK ADDED LB. 18¢
SUNNYFIELD BACON NO RIND LB. 31¢
BACON SLICED WITH RIND LB. 27¢

ROUND STEAK BONELESS LB. 33¢
SMALL HAMS GA. SUGAR-CURED HALF OR WHOLE LB. 21¢

PIGGLY WIGGLY

SPECIALS FOR MONDAY AND TUESDAY

3 LBS. KRAUT 1 LB. WIENERS BOTH FOR 30¢

Round Steak FANCY TENDER LB. 33¢ Cheese LB. 25¢

Lamb Chops FANCY LOIN LB. 39¢

WIENERS KINGMAN'S SKINLESS LB. 23¢

Pork Sausage MADE DAILY BULK LB. 23¢

SHRIMP LARGE CRAB COOKED 1-LB. 20¢

HAM SUGAR-CURED SLICED END CUTS CENTER CUTS LB. 25¢ LB. 39¢

GREEN VEGETABLES—FRESH FRUITS

YELLOW ONIONS 3 LBS. 10¢ ICEBERG LETTUCE LARGE HEAD 9¢ BANANAS 3 LBS. 13¢

INFERTILE, FRESH YARD EGGS DOZ. 33¢

Ga. Yams Kiln-Dried-Graded 5 LBS. 15¢ GENUINE IDAHO BAKING Potatoes POUND 5¢ GA. WINESAP APPLES DOZ. 15¢

SELECTED MAINE POTATOES 5 LBS. 9¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

PIGGLY WIGGLY

SPECIALS FOR MONDAY AND TUESDAY

3 LBS. KRAUT 1 LB. WIENERS BOTH FOR 30¢

Round Steak FANCY TENDER LB. 33¢ Cheese LB. 25¢

Lamb Chops FANCY LOIN LB. 39¢

WIENERS KINGMAN'S SKINLESS LB. 23¢

Pork Sausage MADE DAILY BULK LB. 23¢

SHRIMP LARGE CRAB COOKED 1-LB. 20¢

HAM SUGAR-CURED SLICED END CUTS CENTER CUTS LB. 25¢ LB. 39¢

GREEN VEGETABLES—FRESH FRUITS

YELLOW ONIONS 3 LBS. 10¢ ICEBERG LETTUCE LARGE HEAD 9¢ BANANAS 3 LBS. 13¢

INFERTILE, FRESH YARD EGGS DOZ. 33¢

Ga. Yams Kiln-Dried-Graded 5 LBS. 15¢ GENUINE IDAHO BAKING Potatoes POUND 5¢ GA. WINESAP APPLES DOZ. 15¢

SELECTED MAINE POTATOES 5 LBS. 9¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

NEW RED BLISS Potatoes POUND 5¢ RUTABAGA TURNIPS 2 LBS. 5¢ LARGE BUNCH CARROTS 2 FOR 15¢

LARGE STAYMAN APPLES DOZ. 33¢

FLA. CELERY LARGE STALK 10¢

Pencil
Tablets
3 for 10¢

ROGERS
QUALITY FOOD SHOPS

Ink
Tablets
3 for 10¢

30 1935 HUPMOBILES GIVEN AWAY

in Seminole's Great Prize Contest

$56,300 00 7930

IN PRIZES AWARDS

Win one of these valuable prizes—

First 30 Awards—Thrilling 1935 Hupmobiles
Next 100 Awards—Famous Stewart Warner Radios, 4 models
Next 300 Awards—Toastermasters and Hospitality Tray Sets
Next 2500 Awards—Glorious Flameless Cigarette Lighters
Next 5000 Awards—Campagna Italian Balm Combination Sets (Dispenser and Balm)

Ask for Details... Easy to Enter... Easy to Win

SEMINOLE TISSUE

1,000 SHEETS COTTON-SOFT SNOW-WHITE

4 ROLLS 25¢

Red Wing Jelly

Crabapple, currant, grape and quince

15-Oz. Jar 19¢

NOTE! Red Wing Jellies and Red Wing Preserves are packed in an attractive water glass. This glass itself would sell for 5¢.

Red Wing Preserves

Strawberry, blackberry, cherry, peach and pineapple

16-Oz. Jar 19¢

Our Mother's Baking Chocolate

1-Lb. Cake 82¢

Southern Manor Or Stokely's Fancy Corn

No. 2 Can 122¢

TASTY FLAKE GINGER SNAPS - - - - - LB. BOX 10¢
TASTY FLAKE BUTTER CRACKERS - - - - - LB. BOX 10¢
PURITAN MARSHMALLOWS - - - - - 1/2 LB. PKG. 10¢
COLONIAL OR ST. CHARLES EVAP. MILK - TALL CAN 6¢
SKINNER'S RAISIN BRAN - - - - - PKG. 14¢
DAUFUSKI'S OYSTERS - - - - - 5-OZ. CAN 12 1/2¢
ORANGE MARMALADE - - - - - 15-OZ. JAR 23¢
ROSEDALE CORNED BEEF HASH - - - - - NO. 1 CAN 10¢
DURKEE'S BLACK PEPPER - - - - - 4-OZ. CAN 10¢
CHOICE MEDIUM SIZE PRUNES - - - - - 2 LBS. 15¢
DR. PHILLIPS' GRAPEFRUIT JUICE - - - - - NO. 2 CAN 12 1/2¢
TELLAM'S PEANUT BUTTER - - - - - LB. 15¢

Butter Cookies

Thinshell Lb. Box 122¢

Turnip Greens

Stokely's No. 2 Can 122¢

Fruits and Vegetables

Sweet Juicy Fla. Oranges Doz. 122¢

At Rogers Markets

Fancy Red Fin Croakers Lb. 6¢

Crisp Iceberg Lettuce - - - - - HEAD 9¢
California Carrots - - - - - BUNCH 7¢
Fresh Turnip Salad - - - - - LB. 6¢
Ga. Porto Rican Yams 5 LBS. 15¢
Large Sunkist Lemons DOZ. 12¢
Yellow Onions - - - - - 3 LBS. 12¢
Rutabaga Turnips - - - - - 3 LBS. 7¢

Veal Round Cutlets - - - - - LB. 35¢
Veal Loin Cutlets - - - - - LB. 33¢
Veal Rib or Loin Chops - - - - - LB. 29¢
Baby Beef Round Steak - - - - - LB. 33¢
Baby Beef Sirloin Steak - - - - - LB. 31¢
Club Steak or Rib Chops - - - - - LB. 29¢
Ham Patties - - - - - LB. 25¢

Church Bells Are Silent When 'Ringers' Strike
COOMBE MARTIN, NORTH DEVONSHIRE, England, Feb. 3.—(AP)—A strike by bell ringers silenced the bells of the parish church in this picturesque seaside town today.

Parishioners were astonished when the bells which have called them to service for years did not break

10,500-Acre Harris County Project Is Given Approval of H. L. Hopkins

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A rural industrial community has been approved for the Pine Mountain Valley, Ga., by Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, who announced that land improvement and crop planting had already been started with approximately 50 men employed. A much larger number will be employed later, the administrator said.

The project site lies in a picturesque valley in Harris county, 23 miles north of Columbus and 11 miles southwest of Warm Springs.

As soon as working plans are completed the construction of houses to accommodate 300 families will be started. The project will permit of expansion later so as to provide homes for 750 to 1,000 families. The entire site comprises 10,500 acres recently purchased by the Georgia emergency relief administration, of which Miss Gay Shepperson is the head.

The community was planned by the Georgia Rural Rehabilitation Corporation, in consultation with Lawrence Westbrook, assistant administrator of the FERA, and David R. Williams, chief of planning for the FERA's rural rehabilitation division.

The project will be operated under the Georgia Rural Rehabilitation Corporation, whose directors comprise important officials of the state and the federal government. They are Miss Gay B. Shepperson, W. A. Hartman, regional director of the land policy section of the agricultural adjustment administration; Alan Johnson, regional representative of the federal emergency relief administration; Harry L. Brown, director of the Georgia agricultural extension service; Philip Welner, chancellor of the University System of Georgia; R. L. Vansant, director of rural rehabilitation of the Georgia emergency relief administration; and W. P. Bryan, manager of the Irwin county rehabilitation project.

"Georgia now imports some $150,000,000 worth of food products, which might be grown within the state," Administrator Hopkins declared, "and for several years a statewide campaign has been carried on to encourage processing plants in which locally produced foodstuffs are made. The local markets. Successful demonstrations of this at the Pine Mountain Valley community is expected to stimulate the home grown food campaign."

A main work center of the community will include a general cannery plant, a furniture and rug shop, a creamery and poultry dressing plant, an abattoir, and a chick hatchery, as well as dry and cold storage.

For the farmers, the acreage will run to 40 acres. Families to occupy the community will be selected from relief rolls by the state relief administration. Between 25 and 50 vocationally trained, disabled veterans and their families will also be among the first residents.

About 30 per cent of the 10,500 acres are in timber, from which it is estimated, a million and a half board feet of yellow pine might be cut, as well as hardwoods.

A paved highway from Atlanta to Columbus crosses the tract on the west and the highway from Columbus to Warm Springs goes two miles to the east.

The average cost of the land per acre was $9.38. The cost per family unit will be about $2,000, including a house, about $1,100 and the remainder will be about $2,000, including a house for about $1,100 and the remainder for live stock, tools and implements as well as the family's private share of some of the community buildings and facilities.

The estimated average purchase price of a house of five rooms, including plumbing, electric wiring, septic tank, fences, small out buildings and an acre and a half of land is $1,315. A six-room house would cost about $1,800 more, and a four-room house about $100 less.

On the basis of paying out in 25 years, the homesteaders will lease and pay annual rental equal to three per cent interest, plus taxes and $38 for upkeep, which would total $141.77 a year, or $11.80 a month.

"Georgia now imports some $150,000,000 worth of food products, which might be grown within the state," Administrator Hopkins declared, "and for several years a statewide campaign has been carried on to encourage processing plants in which locally produced foodstuffs are made. The local markets. Successful demonstrations of this at the Pine Mountain Valley community is expected to stimulate the home grown food campaign."

A main work center of the community will include a general cannery plant, a furniture and rug shop, a creamery and poultry dressing plant, an abattoir, and a chick hatchery, as well as dry and cold storage.

For the farmers, the acreage will run to 40 acres. Families to occupy the community will be selected from relief rolls by the state relief administration. Between 25 and 50 vocationally trained, disabled veterans and their families will also be among the first residents.

About 30 per cent of the 10,500 acres are in timber, from which it is estimated, a million and a half board feet of yellow pine might be cut, as well as hardwoods.

A paved highway from Atlanta to Columbus crosses the tract on the west and the highway from Columbus to Warm Springs goes two miles to the east.

The average cost of the land per acre was $9.38. The cost per family unit will be about $2,000, including a house, about $1,100 and the remainder will be about $2,000, including a house for about $1,100 and the remainder for live stock, tools and implements as well as the family's private share of some of the community buildings and facilities.

The estimated average purchase price of a house of five rooms, including plumbing, electric wiring, septic tank, fences, small out buildings and an acre and a half of land is $1,315. A six-room house would cost about $1,800 more, and a four-room house about $100 less.

On the basis of paying out in 25 years, the homesteaders will lease and pay annual rental equal to three per cent interest, plus taxes and $38 for upkeep, which would total $141.77 a year, or $11.80 a month.

"Georgia now imports some $150,000,000 worth of food products, which might be grown within the state," Administrator Hopkins declared, "and for several years a statewide campaign has been carried on to encourage processing plants in which locally produced foodstuffs are made. The local markets. Successful demonstrations of this at the Pine Mountain Valley community is expected to stimulate the home grown food campaign."

A main work center of the community will include a general cannery plant, a furniture and rug shop, a creamery and poultry dressing plant, an abattoir, and a chick hatchery, as well as dry and cold storage.

For the farmers, the acreage will run to 40 acres. Families to occupy the community will be selected from relief rolls by the state relief administration. Between 25 and 50 vocationally trained, disabled veterans and their families will also be among the first residents.

About 30 per cent of the 10,500 acres are in timber, from which it is estimated, a million and a half board feet of yellow pine might be cut, as well as hardwoods.

A paved highway from Atlanta to Columbus crosses the tract on the west and the highway from Columbus to Warm Springs goes two miles to the east.

The average cost of the land per acre was $9.38. The cost per family unit will be about $2,000, including a house, about $1,100 and the remainder will be about $2,000, including a house for about $1,100 and the remainder for live stock, tools and implements as well as the family's private share of some of the community buildings and facilities.

The estimated average purchase price of a house of five rooms, including plumbing, electric wiring, septic tank, fences, small out buildings and an acre and a half of land is $1,315. A six-room house would cost about $1,800 more, and a four-room house about $100 less.

On the basis of paying out in 25 years, the homesteaders will lease and pay annual rental equal to three per cent interest, plus taxes and $38 for upkeep, which would total $141.77 a year, or $11.80 a month.

"Georgia now imports some $150,000,000 worth of food products, which might be grown within the state," Administrator Hopkins declared, "and for several years a statewide campaign has been carried on to encourage processing plants in which locally produced foodstuffs are made. The local markets. Successful demonstrations of this at the Pine Mountain Valley community is expected to stimulate the home grown food campaign."

A main work center of the community will include a general cannery plant, a furniture and rug shop, a creamery and poultry dressing plant, an abattoir, and a chick hatchery, as well as dry and cold storage.

For the farmers, the acreage will run to 40 acres. Families to occupy the community will be selected from relief rolls by the state relief administration. Between 25 and 50 vocationally trained, disabled veterans and their families will also be among the first residents.

About 30 per cent of the 10,500 acres are in timber, from which it is estimated, a million and a half board feet of yellow pine might be cut, as well as hardwoods.

A paved highway from Atlanta to Columbus crosses the tract on the west and the highway from Columbus to Warm Springs goes two miles to the east.

The average cost of the land per acre was $9.38. The cost per family unit will be about $2,000, including a house, about $1,100 and the remainder will be about $2,000, including a house for about $1,100 and the remainder for live stock, tools and implements as well as the family's private share of some of the community buildings and facilities.

The estimated average purchase price of a house of five rooms, including plumbing, electric wiring, septic tank, fences, small out buildings and an acre and a half of land is $1,315. A six-room house would cost about $1,800 more, and a four-room house about $100 less.

Georgia Naval Flyer Killed in Crash

Lieutenant Oscar Willis Pate Jr., a native of Macon, Ga., and Lieutenant John B. Burgess were killed in the crash of a naval land fighter near Millsap, Texas. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition as the plane fell in flames. (Associated Press Photo.)

'35 RAILROAD DEFICIT PREDICTED BY PELLEY

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Expenses of American railroads will be increased by approximately $290,000,000 this year by wage increases and rising costs of materials, John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, says in an article in the Wharton Review.

Pelley predicts a considerable deficit in operation of railroads for a whole year, even though they are granted the increase in rates which they have asked. "During the five years ending December 31, 1929," he writes, "railroad operating revenues averaged $6,206,000,000. On the average $1,450,000,000 of this remained available for fixed charges, resulting in a deficit which averaged only $677,000,000."

"During 1930 the railroads, as a whole had a net income of $523,907,000 above all fixed charges. In 1931 this figure was reduced to $134,761,000; in 1932 it became a deficit of $130,203,000; but in 1933 with operating revenues slightly lower than in 1932, this deficit was cut to $5,862,000."

"Complete figures are not available for 1934, but it is apparent that the deficit will be greater than in 1933, probably about $65,000,000, due largely to an increase in operating expenses brought about through government action of various sorts."

"This upward trend of operating costs will continue in 1935. A substantial wage increase went into effect on January 1, and another will become effective on April 1. These increases plus the steady rise in the cost of materials and supplies are expected to add about $290,000,000 to expenses in 1935."

"To meet this increase in part, the railroads have asked for an increase in rates, expected to yield $180,000,000 annually, an increase of 6.7 per cent in the general rate level."

The Wharton Review is a student publication of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

Fatality Climaxes Day of Huge Auto Toll

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Killing of a negro by a bit-and-run driver on a country highway last night climaxed a series of accidents which put several persons in hospitals. The negro, unidentified, was dragged into the woods along the road and left, county police said.

Mrs. J. H. Audsey, Mrs. Catherine Foshee and Betty Foshee were hurt when their car, driven by Mr. Audsey, hit a tree to avoid striking another automobile. The four were reported seriously injured.

George Hoover, 4 years old, was hurt when a police car answering an emergency call, knocked him down. He was just brushed by a fender and not seriously injured.

Dock Frazier, colored boy, was run over when he tried to jump from a circus trailer on which he had been getting a ride.

J. S. Branson, of Dorchester, Ga., was hurt when his truck collided with a parked car which jumped a curb and injured Addie Spann.

Mrs. George Scarlett, of Chevy Chase, Md., was slightly injured in a grade crossing accident.

Jack and Kenneth Gupton were bruised and lacerated in a collision of automobiles at a busy street.

Jesse Dennison, colored, lost his left arm by amputation after it had been mangled by being caught against a moving log truck. Dennison had been driving a car in the opposite direction.

ROADBUILDERS FIND ANCIENT ART WORKS OVER KIANGSI AREA

NANCHANG, China, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Conditions approximating a new gold rush prevailed in the Kiangsi province today where the soil was yielding precious objects of art dating back almost to the time of Christ.

Curio collectors were arriving in considerable numbers from distant parts of the country hoping to profit from rich "strikes" which are being made daily during the excavation of ancient cemeteries to make way for new roads, new railways and other modern construction projects.

Rare and exquisite ivory-colored and soft blue bowls and plates from the old pottery works of southern Hopei and Honan provinces, and the soft green Celladon vases and bowls of the Longchuen pottery in Chekiang have been dug up by curio laborers.

The latter were made about 1,000 years ago, long before the Tartars drove the Sung from Kaifeng in 1127 A. D. to the Chekiang city of Hangchow, which figures in the narratives of Marco Polo.

Tang dynasty relics more than 10 centuries old, including funeral urns, dragon-encircled vases and unglazed figures of animals, turtles and fish with the heads of men were among the finds.

Ann Sothern Hurt.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Thrown against the deck railing of a studio "ship" during the filming of a mechanical "storm at sea," Ann Sothern, screen actress, suffered lacerations on the head today. Her injury was not serious.

Eclipse Visible in Atlanta Area, But Haze Over U. S. Bars Studies

By the Associated Press.

The partial eclipse of the sun, promised by scientists as a special show for North America, went unseen yesterday by most sections of the country because of overcast and hazy skies. Forty per cent of the eclipse was to have been visible to America sometime yesterday morning, the time varying from 7:30 a. m. in San Francisco to 11:30 a. m. at Boston.

In the east, the coast guard reported overcast skies as far south as Cape Hatteras, and most other sections of the country reported weather conditions which spoiled the view or made scientific observation unreliable.

A very tiny niche of the sun was covered by the moon above Atlanta but observers there regarded it as of little scientific value. The sky was too hazy.

The eclipse was clearly visible in and around St. Louis, Mo., where the weather was clear and skies bright. At 10:04 a. m. (central time) the maximum occultation occurred, when about two-tenths of the sun was concealed.

New York scientists had forecast an "unusually hazy day" and therefore did not set up equipment for observations. The haze hung over the city with unvarying intensity and at the time of the eclipse there was no perceptible change in visibility.

Heavy clouds hid the sun from sight around Boston, but some New England residents reported seeing the eclipse. Dr. Waring E. Andrews, of the Harvard observatory, Cambridge, Mass., took a photograph of the eclipse at 11:15 (eastern standard time).

The astronomical phenomenon was visible at Philadelphia to the naked eye through a thin layer of clouds at the height of the eclipse from 11:15 to 11:30 a. m. (eastern time), when 40 per cent of the sun was obscured. Overcast skies spoiled plans for pictures.

The Case School of Applied Science observatory at Cleveland reported that the overcast sky made it impossible to see the eclipse in that area.

Similar reports of overcast conditions in Chicago and astronomers abandoned plans for scientific observations.

Even the ordinarily sunny California skies were cloudy and ruined visibility in the far west. California observatories throughout the state reported that the eclipse was not seen. Weather conditions throughout the country, however, did not cause much disappointment among astronomers. The eclipse was classed as "unimportant" and even if it were visible would have resulted in virtually no additional scientific knowledge.

Where visibility permitted, the eclipse was seen from southern Central America north to the arctic circle and west to the Alaskan line.

MILLIONAIRES AND BEGGARS JOIN IN GANGES RUSH

CALCUTTA, India, Feb. 3.—(UP)—Millionaires and beggars bathed together in the holy waters of the River Ganges today, gaining they believed, absolution for their accumulated sins. The tremendous crush of humanity was in observance of the passage of the sun through the constellation of Capricorn.

This "Yoga" or abstract meditation on the Supreme Being, has occurred thrice in the last 70 years; this time as sanctifying 10,000,000 solar eclipses. Hence, although the eclipse of the sun was invisible here, that fact was disregarded by religious leaders and India's masses, the sanctity lying in the "holy conjunction" of the solar bodies.

Extraordinary scenes of religious frenzy were witnessed along the banks of the Ganges. The aged, dying, blind and lame were among a million men, women and children who crushed in a huge throng to the river's bed to lave themselves in its supposedly healing waters. Families brought the aged and ill on stretchers on their backs or on a way get them into the water, however briefly, before they were forced on by the unending mobs pushing toward the river.

Hindus, were in the vast majority at the Ganges, since they believe the eclipse, although invisible here, means the Dragon Rahu, the "Seizer" swallows the sun and world calamity is sure to follow. To prepare against this and against possible sudden death, hundreds of thousands rushed to dip themselves in the sacred waters which to them wash away all sin or moral taint.

30 GOODYEAR DEALERS TO GATHER HERE TODAY

MAJOR C. A. SHEPARD TO TAKE STAND TODAY

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Charles A. Shepard, who saw his dream of romance with a 23-year-old girl destroyed when he was charged with poisoning his second wife, made ready tonight to take the stand in federal court to deny his guilt.

"I am innocent," he said, "and the jury cannot but help find me so. I will tell the full story on the stand as I did in the former trial."

The now 63-year-old former army tuberculosis expert's wife, Zenana, died June 15, 1929, at Fort Riley, Kan. Shepard, once tried and convicted, begins the second week of his second trial tomorrow. The first conviction was set aside by the supreme court.

Admitting Shepard's engagement to Miss Grace Brandon soon after his wife's death and admitting that Mrs. Shepard probably died of poison, C. L. Kasey, chief of his defense counsel, set forth twin theories of suicide and accident to account for the latter.

Miss Brandon, now almost 30 years old, told the jury last week of her romance with Shepard when he was a major in the medical corps.

When Shepard began his testimony he will have the moral backing of his third wife, the former Alice J. Watt, of Denver, who eloped with him July 4, 1933.

Rebel Labor Group Maps Plans for 'War'

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Ignoring threats of expulsion, a conference of "rank and file" members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers tonight set up machinery for a "whirlwind" militant campaign to force "recognition" of the union by steel companies.

Clarence Irwin, of Youngstown, who was elected chairman of a national organization committee, said 400 delegates from 78 lodges in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia and Pennsylvania attended the meeting.

Simultaneously approximately 150 miners met in a nearby hall and pledged co-operation with the steel men "for the potential April 1 strike" and named a committee of 27 to work out a plan of joint action.

Prompt Relief

For sufferers from the itching, burning and irritation of eczema, pimples, rashes, red, rough skin, itching, burning feet, chafings, chapping, cuts, burns and disfiguring blotches, may be found by anointing with

Cuticura

Sample Free. Address: "Cuticura," Dept. L, Malden, Mass.

Two Georgia Boys Drift 3 Days In Gulf Without Food or Water

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Two Georgia youths from the transient bureau camp at Fort Morgan, Ala., who drifted in an open row boat in the Gulf for three days without food or water, tonight were safe and sound in Gulfport.

The youths, Harrison Barnes, 19, and Leonard Adams, 18, whose home address is Macon, were picked up by the coast guard picket boat 23-24 from Gulfport, after word had been sent the guard from Chandelure Island by I. J. Stokes, the lighthouse keeper.

The pair, starving—one of them near collapse and "ready to give in," he said—drifted to land on Chandelure Island eight miles from the lighthouse. Trudging toward the beach, they met a fisherman who gave them food and drink.

The youths went fishing Tuesday morning. Ignorant of tides and knowing little of the use of oars, they discovered themselves drifting from land Tuesday afternoon. After a futile attempt to row to shore and tired from their exertions, they fell asleep. When they awakened, they were far from shore and their small boat was being whipped by a strong northeast wind, finally drifted near Sand Island, which is about two and a half miles from Fort Morgan.

Unable to hail assistance, the pair continued drifting until late Friday afternoon, when they finally made their way to shore on Chandelure Island.

After the boys reached the lighthouse, the keeper, Stokes, telephoned the coast guard at Gulfport and informed officials. The boat was dispatched late Saturday afternoon to the island, arriving about 10 p. m., picked up the youths and left for Gulfport.

The Chandelure Island lighthouse is about 60 miles southwest of Fort Morgan. Stokes said the pair told him they were "about all in" when they finally reached land.

U. S. COURT TO SET DATE FOR FAIRBANKS' TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—(AP)—A date for trial of the government's suit against Douglas Fairbanks over $72,183 in income taxes allegedly refunded in error to the actor was scheduled to be set in United States district court here tomorrow.

The suit is based on re-examination under the portion of the income tax law dealing with capital gains of about $400,000 in stock purchased by Fairbanks in the Elton Corporation in exchange for rights in his pictures.

F. J. Neary, of Chatham county police, said that local officers had communicated with police at Bethesda, Md., and had been advised that the warrant still is in force. Neary said the Maryland police asked that the couple be held.

The Scarlettes have been spending several days in this vicinity. They told police they were starting back to Washington tonight when their car was struck by a switch engine at a grade crossing here.

The car was dragged about 100 yards. Scarlette was uninjured while his wife suffered a slight cut on her head.

IT CAN'T BE DONE!

IT DOESN'T REQUIRE CLOSE EXAMINATION to disclose the fact that there is a certain beauty and professional finish about clothes laundered by us which just can't be obtained by means of home washing and ironing. And the explanation is simple.

FINE LAUNDERING IS OUR PROFESSION, and we have scientifically designed equipment to wash, iron and sterilize your clothing and your household linens carefully and well. Great, padded rolls gently iron the flat work FLAT. Ingeniously designed forms and presses not only IRON SHIRTS, but SHAPE THEM into their original lines so that they can be worn proudly and comfortably. Other garments are handled as skilfully and as carefully.

Save Money! Protect Health! Enjoy Leisure!

We Save You 30% ON LAUNDRY

We Call for Your Bundle and Deliver It Back to You at This Price!

JUST PHONE ONE OF THESE

"Yours for Excellence in Quality and Service"

CAPITAL CITY WALnut 7121

DECATUR DEarborn 3162

EXCELSIOR WALnut 2454

GUTHMAN WALnut 8661

MAY'S HEmlock 5300

PIEDMONT WALnut 7851

TRIO JACKson 1600

TROY-PEERLESS WALnut 5107

AMERICAN MAIN 1016

GOOD DRY CLEANING

MEN'S WOOL BUSINESS SUITS

LADIES' PLAIN STREET DRESSES

3 for $1

We Call For and Deliver at the Above Price

Super Skilled Launderers - Dry Cleaners

GOOD DRY CLEANING

MEN'S WOOL BUSINESS SUITS

LADIES' PLAIN STREET DRESSES

3 for $1

We Call For and Deliver at the Above Price

IT CAN'T BE DONE!

IT DOESN'T REQUIRE CLOSE EXAMINATION to disclose the fact that there is a certain beauty and professional finish about clothes laundered by us which just can't be obtained by means of home washing and ironing. And the explanation is simple.

FINE LAUNDERING IS OUR PROFESSION, and we have scientifically designed equipment to wash, iron and sterilize your clothing and your household linens carefully and well. Great, padded rolls gently iron the flat work FLAT. Ingeniously designed forms and presses not only IRON SHIRTS, but SHAPE THEM into their original lines so that they can be worn proudly and comfortably. Other garments are handled as skilfully and as carefully.

Save Money! Protect Health! Enjoy Leisure!

We Save You 30% ON LAUNDRY

We Call for Your Bundle and Deliver It Back to You at This Price!

JUST PHONE ONE OF THESE

"Yours for Excellence in Quality and Service"

CAPITAL CITY WALnut 7121

DECATUR DEarborn 3162

EXCELSIOR WALnut 2454

GUTHMAN WALnut 8661

MAY'S HEmlock 5300

PIEDMONT WALnut 7851

TRIO JACKson 1600

TROY-PEERLESS WALnut 5107

AMERICAN MAIN 1016

GOOD DRY CLEANING

MEN'S WOOL BUSINESS SUITS

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and President.
CLARK HOWELL JR.
Vice President and General Manager.
H. B. BROWN
Business Manager.

Entered at the postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WAlnut 6565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
By Carrier or Mail.
Daily and Sunday, 1 Mo. $2.50 3 Mo. $7.50 6 Mo. $12.50 1 Yr. $25.00
Single Copies—Daily, 5c. Sunday, 10c.
By Mail, Only.
Daily, 10c. Sunday, 15c.
Mail rates for R. F. D. and small or non-carrier towns for 1st, 2d and 3d class postage only, on application.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national rep. representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 D. M. the day after issue. It can be had: Hollings' News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner).

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments are not authorized, and not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., FEB. 4, 1935.

THE STATE'S HEALTH WORK.

In reaching a decision as to the size of the appropriation for the operation of the state board of health, the general assembly should bear in mind the probability that during the next two years the department will not receive the federal aid that has permitted it to function efficiently despite the meager support given by the state government.

The appropriation for 1933 and 1934 was set at the inadequate figure of $125,000, and this was subjected to the 25 per cent reduction enforced upon all departments in order that the state revenues and expenses might be balanced.

Supplementing the money from the state treasury, the department secured during 1934 aid from the FERA, the United States public health service and the Rockefeller foundation that brought its budget to approximately $500,000.

As a result of this outside aid, consisting of both money and labor, the department was, for the first time, able to provide public health nursing service, tuberculosis clinics and sanitary engineering service in every county in the state.

With the discontinuance of the FERA the larger part of this outside aid no longer be received. Many of the health projects undertaken during 1934 have already been discontinued, and unless the state increases the department's appropriation many others will also have to be abandoned.

It will mean that the state-wide war against malaria, typhoid fever, dysentery, the hookworm and other prevalent diseases will in large part come to an end, and that the department's activities will necessarily be greatly reduced.

The state government has no more important duty than to safeguard the health of the people. It is a crime against the public that so easily eradicable a disease as malaria should exist to the extent it does. The same is true in the case of other diseases that can be eliminated, if properly combated.

The health department, as a result of the outside aid received, has demonstrated its ability to revolutionize health conditions in the state. No other department of the state government has rendered better service, nor is in a position to function more effectively.

The general assembly should give serious consideration to the necessity of appropriating sufficient funds for the continuance of the progress achieved last year with the aid of outside funds that will be largely missing in future.

To reduce the operating expenses of the health department below a figure that will permit effective service in safeguarding the health of the state will be to invite a greater prevalence of preventable diseases.

SAFETY IN THE SCHOOLS

There will be universal approval of the bill introduced by Representative Ansley, of DeKalb, which would require all schools, colleges and other educational buildings in the state to be equipped with adequate fire escapes.

Many of the school buildings in Georgia are little more than fire traps and it is unthinkable that they

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

There are two interpreters in the expedition: the Shul, Ahmed, Hussein Guarek and Youssef ibn Avraham, but the latter is in my service exclusively. There is a distinct rivalry between these two men. It started when Youssef overheard the sheik recite his prayers at dawn and he came over to me later to explain that the sheik's invocation was not what it should be. "Well," said I, "so long as he prays, it's all right. Even if he said nothing at all. I share a story in one of our books about a peasant in the east whose house had been seized because he could not pay the taxes. Then they sold his wife and child and finally they came and took his last ox with which he used to plow the rice fields. That peasant went out one night when the moon was full and he lifted up his eyes and his hands to speak to God. But he could find no words, so great was his sorrow. Then he said: 'God, I have been on to say that the sign of that lowly and ignorant peasant rang through the heavens like a thunder clap.'"

"That must be so," replied Youssef, "but that Ahmed never owned an ox in all his life and as for his wives, I'd like to see the women of such a man!"

That's Youssef's way of talking. He never catches the point. A most exasperating fellow. He showed me some pictures in the but of the ox, which I bought him yesterday. There were six of them. "There is room here for many more," he said with a delightful grin.

Discussion.
I told you yesterday that Mohammed omitted to inform the faithful of the exact location of paradise and how the sheik said this had been done on purpose so that the English wouldn't seize the place and add it to their empire. Today I remarked to Ahmed that there is no knowing either of the exact site of the other place. "Have the British perhaps a secret in that, too?" he asked. "But we know where the pit of fire is," he came back to my surprise.

"Where?"
"Right under the desert," he specified. "Didn't you know this?"
"No, I did not, but I am glad you told me. How did you find out?"
"Always know it," said the sheik. "Our scientists have discovered, though," I objected, "that the great desert was once a sea!"

"When?" he asked.
"About a million years ago," I said.
"But the world was not created millions of years ago," he argued.

I walked away before I'd be drawn into a dispute on the subject of the Moslems have the secret, along with some others, of the age of the world. They don't need research or investigation. Everything is settled for them long ago by Mohammed, who, as the sheik said, knew "everything."

We had some lamb chops for dinner tonight. Everything tastes lamb-fat. It sticks to the roof of my mouth. We never get anything else. It is as bad as that fame and apple, we were served in the army, world without end. Even my tobacco tastes of lamb-fat.

Distribution.
After a disagreeable incident at a caravan, where we spent the night and were molested by camel-drivers, the leader of the expedition, Mr. Roosevelt, suggested that between the two of us we not sufficient protection. I told him that I was averse to the use of fire weapons in any circumstances. This reply greatly exasperated Youssef, who would willingly carry an arsenal if I'd let him. He went out in the night, and he came back at dawn with two revolvers.

"Where did you get these?" You had no money to buy them, he said. "From a Frenchman, at the other caravan," he said.

"Did he make you a present of them?" How much did they cost, he asked. "He didn't bargain," said Youssef. "He didn't bargain?" What then?
"He was asleep!" said my bodyguard. (Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

HEALTH TALKS

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

ESCAROLE AND ANTITOXIN.
If I had acute sore throat with only moderate fever and just a general feeling of uneasiness, and so we should deem it wise to take a culture and the laboratory reported next day that it was diphtheria, and the doctor came fiddling around with a dinky 10,000 or 20,000 unit dose of antitoxin. I'd be inclined to wave him aside and duck the dose for a bit. But if the doctor purposed to shoot at least 50,000 units of antitoxin into my system, then I'd be inclined to take it. This reply greatly exasperated Youssef, who would willingly carry an arsenal if I'd let him. He went out in the night, and he came back at dawn with two revolvers.

"Where did you get these?" You had no money to buy them, he said. "From a Frenchman, at the other caravan," he said.

"Did he make you a present of them?" How much did they cost, he asked. "He didn't bargain," said Youssef. "He didn't bargain?" What then?
"He was asleep!" said my bodyguard. (Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Thousands of negro youths have gone out from the institution headed by Dr. Hubert to become good and valuable citizens in the communities they have selected as their homes. They have proved by their lives the soundness of the education imparted to them, and the broad viewpoint instilled into them.

There can be no question that Tuskegee would go on to still greater achievements under the leadership of either Dr. Hubert or Dr. Ames, both of whom have convincingly demonstrated by long service their fitness for so responsible a position.

The modern joke is just an old one repolished.

Don't ever loan your umbrella to fair-weather friends.

Dawn follows night, and the alarm clock follows the dawn.

The best way to get out of the woods is to saw wood and say nothing.

Marriage is never a failure if the woman secured a large divorce settlement.

This is certainly a fast age. We are all about six months ahead of our incomes.

If all the careless auto drivers were laid end to end, they would fill a cemetery.

If the money-changers had not been driven from the temple, by this time, they would have owned the temple.

A newspaper is something which is cussed if it has an editorial policy, and called a spineless jelly-fish if it hasn't one.

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon.

TOYING. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The New Dealers who testified about President Roosevelt's $4,800,000,000 relief appropriation bill were like many witnesses in the Hauptmann case. They did not know or could not remember.

The senate appropriations committee started out to break down any reluctance. The persistent administration critic, Senator Carter Glass, was in charge. He called Messrs. Hopkins, Licks, Bell, Peoples and as many others as he could think of. When he got through, he knew no more than when he started. In fact, he admitted he could not even find out who wrote the bill.

This mystery melodrama is, of course, partially congressional stage play. Congress is trying to pin Mr. Roosevelt down officially, and Mr. Roosevelt will not be pinned down. Unofficially, nearly everyone knows what is supposed to be in contemplation and who wrote the bill. At least it all has been published.

Ordinarily it would be a very serious thing if Glass, the democratic chairman of the senate appropriations committee, opposed the big democratic relief bill, but that has been all fixed. Glass is chairman of the committee in name only. The real New Deal chairman is Senator Jim Byrnes. He is the White House legislative handy man who can fix anything that can be fixed.

This means the mystery bill will be enacted with only such major changes as the White House tells Byrnes it wants.

BONUS. The administration is craftily playing the bonus fish, and now believes it may land him.

When the Patman Jonah tried to swallow the Vinson whale, the New Dealers pulled in a lot of slack line. If they can just continue to encourage this contest between bonus proponents, they will win easily.

The American Legion high command recognized the difficulty and recently rushed up lobbying reinforcements.

The bonus situation will change many times before the bonus fight is over, but it is evident now that the administration can expect to win in the end, probably by the enactment of a satisfactory compromise and possibly by jockeying the whole bonus business into a legislative stalemate.

PATRONAGE. A group of Mr. Roosevelt's workers presented him on his birthday with a personal present and a statuette of a forlorn figure inscribed: "Harvard '04." When the president saw it he remarked:

"This is one of the few who has not been to see me about a job for himself or a friend."

THAW. Jesse Jones has a little scheme for unfreezing the mortgage market and rescuing the New Deal's housing Eliza from the ice. You will hear much about it in speeches he is planning. That is why he got authority from congress in his new bill to buy preferred stock of mortgage companies.

His scheme is to reorganize some existing mortgage companies, setting up new ones and then advancing government money as working capital. He also has an idea of placing a cash sale or loan value on mortgage certificates. Then he will sell the government's interest in these certificates to insurance companies and big banks, which are now reluctant to step in.

That is a lot of ice for Mr. Thaw. About $21,000,000,000 of home mortgages are now outstanding, and $15,000,000,000 of other mortgages. If anyone can make a dent in it, Jones can. He has a way of getting around things in one way or another.

LAMENT. Congressman McDuffie's appointment to a federal judgeship gives a revealing insight into congress now. He was an experienced and efficient legislator with nothing to do. His name was not widely known outside Alabama, but he knew the business of legislation as only a few house members know it. He spent 17 years learning it. Yet, during the last few years, he has been able to do nothing in the way of constructive legislative work. The important laws are written downtown, in the main, by New Deal lawyers.

Congress has become necessarily a routine enacting body, to correct errors and appease the constitution. The opportunity for legislative brilliance no longer exists.

One member who retired last session came back a few days ago to look down at his comrades from the gallery. His observation was: "I was only a push-button during the last few years and I would not go back."

BOB-TAIL. One extraneous reason why Mr. Roosevelt does not want to disclose his hand is that the relief cards he is holding are not exactly a royal flush.

Grave doubts exist as to whether he can spend $4,800,000,000 in the next 17 months in the general way he has suggested. Certainly he has not been able to put out the amounts promised for the last two years. If he specified his expenditures (the blueprint stuff) a weakness in his hand would be apparent.

Meanwhile the $4,800,000,000 figure sounds big enough to the congressional inflationists.

NOTES. Another thing which Mr. Roosevelt cannot yet disclose, but proposes to do on relief, is to appoint regional wage boards to fix regional government relief wages. He will do this to meet the labor protest, but he will insist that any wages so fixed be less than the private business scale.

The anti-Ickes boys were cheering recently about a very special inside rumor that the interior secretary had presented his resignation to Mr. Roosevelt to take effect March 1. They hoped it was true, but thought it was not.

You would have had your best laugh of the year if you could have seen the look on the face of Carter Glass as he listened to the senate speech of the inflationist Senator Thomas. Mr. Glass tried to express a continuously amused smile, but it was too difficult for him and he froze it in continuous disgust. (Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon.)

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon.

TOYING. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The New Dealers who testified about President Roosevelt's $4,800,000,000 relief appropriation bill were like many witnesses in the Hauptmann case. They did not know or could not remember.

The senate appropriations committee started out to break down any reluctance. The persistent administration critic, Senator Carter Glass, was in charge. He called Messrs. Hopkins, Licks, Bell, Peoples and as many others as he could think of. When he got through, he knew no more than when he started. In fact, he admitted he could not even find out who wrote the bill.

This mystery melodrama is, of course, partially congressional stage play. Congress is trying to pin Mr. Roosevelt down officially, and Mr. Roosevelt will not be pinned down. Unofficially, nearly everyone knows what is supposed to be in contemplation and who wrote the bill. At least it all has been published.

Ordinarily it would be a very serious thing if Glass, the democratic chairman of the senate appropriations committee, opposed the big democratic relief bill, but that has been all fixed. Glass is chairman of the committee in name only. The real New Deal chairman is Senator Jim Byrnes. He is the White House legislative handy man who can fix anything that can be fixed.

This means the mystery bill will be enacted with only such major changes as the White House tells Byrnes it wants.

BONUS. The administration is craftily playing the bonus fish, and now believes it may land him.

When the Patman Jonah tried to swallow the Vinson whale, the New Dealers pulled in a lot of slack line. If they can just continue to encourage this contest between bonus proponents, they will win easily.

The American Legion high command recognized the difficulty and recently rushed up lobbying reinforcements.

The bonus situation will change many times before the bonus fight is over, but it is evident now that the administration can expect to win in the end, probably by the enactment of a satisfactory compromise and possibly by jockeying the whole bonus business into a legislative stalemate.

PATRONAGE. A group of Mr. Roosevelt's workers presented him on his birthday with a personal present and a statuette of a forlorn figure inscribed: "Harvard '04." When the president saw it he remarked:

"This is one of the few who has not been to see me about a job for himself or a friend."

THAW. Jesse Jones has a little scheme for unfreezing the mortgage market and rescuing the New Deal's housing Eliza from the ice. You will hear much about it in speeches he is planning. That is why he got authority from congress in his new bill to buy preferred stock of mortgage companies.

His scheme is to reorganize some existing mortgage companies, setting up new ones and then advancing government money as working capital. He also has an idea of placing a cash sale or loan value on mortgage certificates. Then he will sell the government's interest in these certificates to insurance companies and big banks, which are now reluctant to step in.

That is a lot of ice for Mr. Thaw. About $21,000,000,000 of home mortgages are now outstanding, and $15,000,000,000 of other mortgages. If anyone can make a dent in it, Jones can. He has a way of getting around things in one way or another.

LAMENT. Congressman McDuffie's appointment to a federal judgeship gives a revealing insight into congress now. He was an experienced and efficient legislator with nothing to do. His name was not widely known outside Alabama, but he knew the business of legislation as only a few house members know it. He spent 17 years learning it. Yet, during the last few years, he has been able to do nothing in the way of constructive legislative work. The important laws are written downtown, in the main, by New Deal lawyers.

Congress has become necessarily a routine enacting body, to correct errors and appease the constitution. The opportunity for legislative brilliance no longer exists.

One member who retired last session came back a few days ago to look down at his comrades from the gallery. His observation was: "I was only a push-button during the last few years and I would not go back."

BOB-TAIL. One extraneous reason why Mr. Roosevelt does not want to disclose his hand is that the relief cards he is holding are not exactly a royal flush.

Grave doubts exist as to whether he can spend $4,800,000,000 in the next 17 months in the general way he has suggested. Certainly he has not been able to put out the amounts promised for the last two years. If he specified his expenditures (the blueprint stuff) a weakness in his hand would be apparent.

Meanwhile the $4,800,000,000 figure sounds big enough to the congressional inflationists.

NOTES. Another thing which Mr. Roosevelt cannot yet disclose, but proposes to do on relief, is to appoint regional wage boards to fix regional government relief wages. He will do this to meet the labor protest, but he will insist that any wages so fixed be less than the private business scale.

The anti-Ickes boys were cheering recently about a very special inside rumor that the interior secretary had presented his resignation to Mr. Roosevelt to take effect March 1. They hoped it was true, but thought it was not.

You would have had your best laugh of the year if you could have seen the look on the face of Carter Glass as he listened to the senate speech of the inflationist Senator Thomas. Mr. Glass tried to express a continuously amused smile, but it was too difficult for him and he froze it in continuous disgust. (Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon.)

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Portrait Mystery. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—The mystery of the disappearance of the handsome, hand-painted portrait of Mr. Al Fall from the department of the interior is just as puzzling as ever and it is no exaggeration to say that the police are still baffled. Mr. Fall will be remembered as Warren G. Harding's secretary of the interior who turned over the government of lands to some old, personal friends as Senator Huey Long recently turned over to old, personal friends a concession to oil wells in the state oil fields of Louisiana.

On Senator Long's part this concession was a practical step toward the sharing of the wealth and it seems quite appropriate that he should inaugurate this plan by sharing the wealth of the state with his old, personal friends. He has made no boast about the concession, however, and he may be waiting until he has something worth while to report such as the sharing of the rich prostitution and lottery concessions in New Orleans with his old, personal friends. The senator's friends in New Orleans have been making a courageous fight for the prostitution and lottery concessions within the city and have practically ruined both businesses in the course of the battle. When the concession is won, however, and business resumes bigger and better than ever, the concession should amount to one of the greatest wealth-sharing projects in Louisiana.

If, at some future time, the senator's friends should decide quietly to share with him the big money in the fields which he has been kind enough to share with them, that would be no more than fair. After all, nobody ever successfully accused Senator Long of being an amateur.

Unfortunately for Mr. Al Fall, he held office and shared the wealth with his friends long before that euphemistic phrase was invented. He was accused of being an amateur, and he was sentenced to a year in prison.

According to an old custom, when Mr. Fall left office and before he was indicted for illegal parking, he was commissioned to make a hand-painted portrait of him to hang in the corridors of the department of the interior as one of the grandly but ignorantly raising accumulation of government art treasures. These treasures are divided into two general groups, oil paintings and statues. Oil paintings are found more convenient now, as they are as durable as the statues and are becoming a serious problem of storage. Many statues have been distributed in public parks and efforts have been made to hide them with shrubbery but this is only a seasonal relief as they come into view again when the shrubbery is cut and the statues are still spring.

In this connection, a fine patriotic act by a senator from Delaware, who was reported as an effort to any ill will which may have been engendered during the hearings of the Senate committee to investigate the munitions industry. For years, one of the most terrible statues in Washington stood in Du Pont circle, a figure of a woman in a long dress, a figure of a woman in a long dress, a figure of a woman in a long dress. Then, one day, the admiral's statue disappeared and a fountain of water stood in its place. The children who had been frightened by it were growing up normal. But, one day a middle-aged citizen of Washington was driving through Wilmington, Delaware, and rounding the corner of a park or square, emitted an insane shriek, wrecked his car against a tree and collapsed.

For many months he was confined in a sanatorium, screaming "The statue! the statue! the statue!" But tender care, quiet and plenty of pure, nutritious food finally restored his mind. He was warned, however, never to go back to Wilmington and his terrible experience there is the reason why Washington people who were children when the statue of Admiral Du Pont stood in the circle always take the detour past Wilmington in driving to New York.

The Wilmington people are not affected by the statue as Delaware is entirely populated by du Ponts and the old admiral looks normal to them.

Deep Humiliation. After Mr. Fall was convicted of parking by the hydrant—another indictment for carrying a lighted cigar in a street car was dismissed for lack of evidence—someone in the department of the interior felt the humiliation so deeply that the old painting was removed and became a national mystery.

Since then, thousands of pictures have been acquired by the government through the public works administration. The last year hired thousands of artists to paint pictures of the American scene with no topics barred except Al Fall and ladies without any titles. In the office of Mr. Shaw Godwin, alone, the press agent of the department, there are four of these public art treasures, believed to be pictures of trees. It is not known exactly what phases of the American scene they represent but art experts have assured Mr. Godwin that there is nothing in them suggesting either trees or any ladies without any titles.

Still, it is desired to find the missing portrait of the man who shared the wealth with his friends long before that euphemistic phrase was invented. The picture was expensive, being strictly hand-painted throughout and, with the addition of the hydrant, could be made to serve as a national art treasure depicting Rutherford B. Hayes or Congressman Tinkham, of Massachusetts. (Copyright, 1935, by The Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP GIRL, 3, PROBED BY POLICE

Possible attempt by a white man to kidnap a three-year-old girl from her home Sunday afternoon was being investigated Sunday night by police, who were searching for the alleged would-be kidnaper.

A white man drove up in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Booth, at 300 Richmond street, and called to little Helen Booth, who was playing in the yard.

"Come for a ride with me," he invited.

The child was agreeable and was running to get in the automobile when the negro maid at the home, Catherine Daniel, caught the girl's arm.

The man according to the maid, became infuriated and told her Helen was his sister's child, slammed the automobile door and drove away.

Booth, father of the child, Sunday night was at loss to explain what motive could have prompted the act. He told police he had no enemies and was not in such financial circumstances as to make kidnapping for ransom profitable.

MEET THE SENATOR

By MOLLIE MERRICK

24. KEY PITTMAN. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The senate really likes space, quiet Key Pittman, for a decade his democratic colleagues kept nominating him for president pro tempore. Now that his party has control, he occupies that honorary post.

Behind Pittman are memories of gold rushes to Dawson, Alaska, and Tonopah, Nev., in which a frail youngster from the south learned about the brawling, pioneer west.

But the senator from Nevada today is an impeccably dressed, soft-spoken symbol of dignity. He avoids free-for-all debate save at times when foreign relations, for which he is senate spokesman; silver policy or western issues are up. Unobtrusively he speaks quietly, striding back and forth as he does so.

Hunting and fishing, the recreations of his youth in the west, appeal more to Pittman than golf. His record on gun feasts are not mere conversation.

In the celebrated Alfalfa Club that jovial organization to which only "good fellows" are admitted, he is a high ranking member.

Pittman was an early "Roosevelt man," performing service for the president's candidacy in the west. He has been in the senate since 1912, but was not elected until passing through earlier campaigns as most senators do.

His first political appointive place was that of prosecuting attorney in hard-living Nome, Alaska, whose "consent" form of government he helped to draft back at the turn of the century.

His personal friendships in the senate help him to expedite committee business. Every senator knows "Key."

Here Are Provisions Of Anglo-French Pact

The chief provisions of the Anglo-French pact:

An agreement to revise portions of the Versailles treaty now limiting Germany's arms and armed forces.

An alliance against aerial aggression in which one nation would come to the assistance of the other in case of attack without recourse to Geneva.

Return of Germany to active participation in the League of Nations, and an effort to bring back the Franco-Italian accord guaranteeing Austrian independence.

Invitations to Germany, Italy and Belgium to subscribe to a general European pact embodying the above provisions, emphasizing the necessity of immediate direct negotiations with Berlin.

FRANCE, BRITAIN AGREE TO DEMANDS FOR REARMAMENT

Continued From First Page.

goal which foreign ministers of his country have attempted and failed to attain ever since 1920.

Italian adherence to the entire program, including the air alliance, already has been assured. It was indicated in the official statement that it was understood that Laval apprised Premier Mussolini of his intentions to seek this commitment from England when he was in Rome.

Points Summarized. The statement issued early tonight was merely a communique supposedly summarizing all the points of the Anglo-French agreement. More specific details concerning the air alliance and other proposals were believed to be contained in the actual agreement.

One of the principal causes of bitterness between Germany and her former enemies has been the military clauses of the Versailles treaty. With the removal of these clauses, the world would mean realization for Chancellor Hitler of one of the main planks of the platform which put the Nazis in power.

Speculation in diplomatic quarters as to what will be the next so-called "injustice" of the Versailles pact to be removed centered upon the "war" action clause.

It was noted that the Franco-British agreement envisages also the possible modification of military restrictions imposed upon

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL SHOWS BUSINESS GAIN

Insurance Increase of $144,000,000 Reported By President for 1934.

The 91st report of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Boston, presented in its 100th charter year at the annual meeting, on January 28, by President George Willard Smith, shows an increase in new insurance over 1933 of 26 per cent, the amount being $144,000,000. This was the largest volume (except 1929) in the company's experience.

The gain was steady in every month, and general throughout the country.

The insurance in force was increased by $32,000,000, bringing the total to $1,282,000,000. The number of policies in force now exceeds any previous record.

Premiums paid in 1934, $50,220,000, were by far the greatest in amount ever received by the company, and showed a gain of 11 per cent. Premiums for new life insurance were 46 per cent greater than in 1933—a remarkable increase. The popularity of high-premium policies for investment and income forced up the rate per $1,000 insurance to $34.47, as compared to $27.30 in 1933. The annuity business of the company also showed decided increases.

Death claims and surrenders were much lower than in 1933. Fatalities caused by automobiles, and other violent deaths, including suicides, were noticeably less. The mortality rate improved 9 per cent.

Payments to policyholders and all other disbursements were $50,058,000, and total receipts $99,520,000. The balance of $19,462,000 made the largest contribution to assets in the company's history.

The assets are now $307,000,000, or $19,000,000 more than a year ago, after making all deductions to conform with rules of the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners.

The average interest yield from new bonds purchased was 3.12 per cent. The company now has cash on hand of $17,394,000, and government bonds of $15,061,000, a total of $32,455,000, as compared with $18,292,000 at the end of 1933.

The average interest earned has fallen very slightly on the whole investment structure, being 4.91 per cent as compared with the high point of 5.45 in 1929.

During the depression years to date the company has paid dividends without reduction. As the low interest trend on new investments seems likely to persist for some time, the board of directors has adopted an adjusted dividend scale for 1935, under which $8,800,000 will be disbursed. This sum is carried as a liability. The surplus is now $18,017,000.

In 1934 the demand for policy loans was less than one-half of the 1932 level, and well below 1929. Repayments continued in ever larger amounts.

Christ Is Life's Only Refuge, Congregation Told by Yost

The Rev. John L. Yost, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, shown in his pulpit. Staff photo.

Editor's Note—The Constitution this morning presents the fourth of a series of features dealing with Atlanta ministers and their sermons. On succeeding Monday mornings, other clergymen will be shown in their pulpits, together with abstracts of their sermons.

The Rev. John L. Yost, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, preached Sunday on "The Storms of Life," using as his text "And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us; we perish." Matthew 8:25. An abstract of his sermon follows:

"Our text, which is a part of the account of the stilling of the storm on the Sea of Galilee, records in the most unforgettable terms the imminent peril and danger encountered by the disciples, the miraculous intervention on the part of the Son of Man, and suggests in no uncertain terms the only refuge and safety that is ours in the midst of the storms of life.

"It is stern reality, and not mere poetic fancy that would cause us to liken the Sea of Galilee to the sea of life, which, in either case, is sometimes calm and sometimes stormy, sometimes sweetly reposing under the smile of a sunny sky, and sometimes deeply disturbed by the violent winds that blow from the east or west, the sunshine or the shadow, the presence and the power of Christ is always and everywhere an indispensable necessity.

"Helplessness of Man." "A moment's contemplation on the storms of life will show us: "1. The utter helplessness of man. As that tiny craft set sail that evening across the Sea of Galilee, everything was calm and still. Not a breeze was stirring, not a cloud in the sky. If there was ever a time when it seemed that the voyage might be made in perfect safety, it was now. The boat was manned by experienced seamen. Their minds were peaceful and undisturbed. They were conscious of no need. No storm threatened to cause the least anxiety. The waters were calm and placid. But it was a calmness, a tranquillity, a peacefulness that contained the element of danger. These men were self-confident, they were possessed with a feeling that they were strong enough for any emergency, they could rely on their own strength, they could get along without Christ.

"But suddenly a great storm arose, and it seemed certain that they would all perish, and their craft would be destroyed. Against their own will they were compelled to acknowledge that no human strength or skill could prevail against that raging wind and turbulent sea. The cry, 'Lord, save us; we perish,' was the expression of their inmost souls. Their hope was fixed now on Christ alone. Relief could be expected from no other source. He must save them or they would utterly perish. Once wrapped in the spirit of indifference, false security, and self-dependence, they were now face to face with their utter helplessness, and could only cry, 'Lord, save us.'"

"Supremacy of Christ." "And fortunate for them as for us, there was and is available, the complete supremacy of Christ. When they cried unto him, it is said that, 'He arose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm.' Possibly no other incident reveals so clearly the fact that our Lord was both human and divine. Whilst these strong and self-reliant men were terrified by the storm, the Master weary of the toils of the day, tranquilly slept 'in the hinder part of the vessel.' All the tumult and confusion had failed to awake him, because he slept in the perfect repose of a pure conscience, the sleep of exhaustion.

"But he was not only true man, he was also true God. When the disciples found themselves in peril and danger, and in the moment of their extremity cried, 'Lord, save us,' then it was that He, who rulest the raging of the sea, calmly arose and stretched forth his hand and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm. What evidence of divine majesty! What perfect mastery of wind and wave! Mighty indeed is the Lord our God! Not only does the 'conscious water know her Lord and blith' at the wedding in Cana; not only does death carrying disease stop ravaging as His omnific word goes forth, but the winds are bound; the surging billows and the lashing waves throb into stillness, and the tempestuous sea falls into a great calm of rest as He speaks, 'Peace, be still! Well might the occupants of that boat cry out in amazement, 'What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?' So we find in Him, perfect God and perfect man, the perfect Savior and perfect friend. To Him the disciples cried in their distress, and He heard their cry. Seated today at the right hand of God, He still hears and answers those who call upon Him in earnestness and faith.

"We need not expect in find life free from storms; nor when the tem-

Named Alumni Head

Robert F. Whitaker, alumni secretary of Emory University, Saturday was elected regional director of the American alumni council for two years, at a convention of 42 southern college alumni secretaries at the Blinnmore hotel. He automatically becomes a member of the governing body of the national organization.

DIXIE BOOSTERS PUSH DRIVE FOR CONVENTION

The Dixie Boosters Club of Atlanta will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock Friday night, February 15, at the Ansley hotel, for discussion of the progress of the drive to bring the 1935 convention of the club to Atlanta, the chairman, J. C. Overstreet, announced Sunday.

With lodges all over the south, the Dixie Boosters organization is described as "the playground of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Ladies Auxiliary." The Atlanta club has several hundred members, and the present membership drive is expected to bring in 200 more members. Funds raised during the drive will go toward advertising Atlanta as the convention city of 1936 during the coming convention in June of the present year.

pest beats upon us in its fury to feel that we are dependent upon ourselves alone. The secret of the successful Christian life is found in prayer. God is our refuge and strength; a very present help in trouble. In the hours of weakness and trial we have but to fall back upon the arms of an Almighty Savior, and He will deliver us and grant us salvation, even as He did so long ago to His terrified disciples on stormy Galilee."

Georgia Narcotic Act Urged To Keep Dope Peddlers Away

Mrs. Hamilton Wright Warns State Will Become 'Dumping Ground,' Unless Action Is Taken.

Stating that unless Georgia adopts the uniform state narcotic act, which has been adopted by neighboring states, the state will become a dumping ground for narcotic addicts and dope peddlers, Mrs. Hamilton Wright, internationally known anti-narcotic worker, charged in Atlanta Sunday that marijuana cigarettes were being sold to Atlanta and Savannah school children.

Mrs. Wright, daughter of the late United States Senator William Wright, Washington, and widow of the late Dr. Hamilton Wright, stopped over in Atlanta Sunday night en route to her home in Washington, D. C.

When Dr. Wright, who was the leading spirit in the movement to suppress dangerous drugs, both at the department of state and as representative of the government at international conferences at The Hague, died, Mrs. Wright took up his work. She was appointed by the council of the League of Nations as assessor on the opium advisory committee in Geneva, where she served for 25 years. In 1924, she was appointed a member of the American delegation to the international conference, in Geneva, and was the first woman, she said, to represent her country with full plenipotentiary powers.

"No-Man's Land." Mrs. Wright stated that a "no-man's land" existed between the ending of federal authority and the beginning of the states' responsibilities, and that this space has become a zone of refuge for criminals. It was to cover this defect, she said, that the American Bar Association and the American Medical Association spent five years drafting uniform state narcotic laws. These laws, she said, if widely adopted, will prohibit the criminal from slipping from state to state.

"Many states already have put uniform narcotic laws in effect, a powerful group of southern states taking the lead," Mrs. Wright said. "For her own protection Georgia should pass the law at once or she'll become the dumping ground of drug addicts, dope peddlers and derelicts who have been driven from neighboring states. An army of undesirables is now heading for Georgia as the uniform narcotic act has gone in effect in South Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Florida and Louisiana and with every possibility of North Carolina and West Virginia passing the act in the near future.

"The drug evil is increasing throughout the world by leaps and bounds. We have in China's present inert and deplorable state the result of a people drugged for centuries. Opium in the hands of an enemy is a far more effective weapon than gun powder and battleships and incidentally is much cheaper.

Firm Methods Urged. "No country can afford to temporize with the drug evil, any more than with smallpox or yellow fever. A drug addict's first impulse is to make other addicts and so the evil spreads like an epidemic.

"A few years ago, no one in Georgia had heard of marijuana, which is the Mexican name for the pernicious Indian hemp. Today, cigarettes made from the dangerous drug are being sold by drug peddlers to school children of Atlanta and Savannah. The uniform state narcotic laws would protect these children and people of Georgia from the rats that are gnawing at the very roots of the health of the state.

"Drugs and crime form a vicious circle. They go hand in hand. In this moment of dire confusion throughout the world and in our own America, it is the duty of every individual, of every state of the Union, of the government, to attack at every angle the present nightmare of crime which has thrown a shadow over our country and to protect innocent people from the danger, the gangster and the vicious, irresponsible group, represented by the powerful drug ring, the dope peddler and the drug addict.

"It was with the hope of eliminating our dangerous phase of our universal distemper that the uniform state narcotic act was drafted—to be enacted or rejected as a conscience of the state decides."

OFFICE IS OPENED FOR SOCIAL WORK CONFERENCE PLANS

Thomas B. Mimms, acting executive secretary of the state department of public welfare and president of the Georgia Conference on Social Work, Sunday announced the opening of Atlanta offices on the third floor of the 11 Pryor Street building to handle arrangements for the forthcoming conference on social work to be held in Columbus, April 14-17.

Three thousand notices are being mailed this week to every public and private welfare agency in the state as well as to supporters and friends

It stimulates the action of liver, gall bladder, bowels and kidneys. It clears — and keeps clear the intestinal tract of clogging waste, acids and poisons which if allowed to get into the blood often cause illness and skin blemishes. All those bodily ills that befog the brain and irritate the temper—headache—dizziness—listlessness—stomach gas—disappear to be replaced by a wonderful feeling of happiness, of contentment, of alertness and brightness of brain and body. You'll sleep like a log and your appetite gets the keen edge of a hungry schoolboy's. Try just one jar of Kruschen you folks who are not enjoying glorious health—an 85-cent jar will last you 8 weeks and if after taking just one jar you do not say that the 6 precious salts of Kruschen are not worth many times the cost—your money is waiting for you.

CHILD TO BE BORN TO MUSSOLINI'S WIFE

ROME, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Fascist circles disclosed today that Premier Mussolini is expecting an increase in his family within a few days.

Il Duce is already the father of five children, the youngest of whom is Anna Maria, five. He is now 51 and a grandfather.

of humanitarian organizations, urging them to aid the conference.

The theme of the conference, designed to interest laymen as well as professional social workers, is "Social Welfare in a Program of Economic Recovery." Edward M. Kahn, executive director of the Atlanta Federation of Jewish Charities, is chairman of a program committee which will bring to the conference nationally known leaders in the field of social work.

Officers of the conference, in addition to Mr. Mimms, president, are Miss Nelle Franklin, of Albany, division case supervisor of the federal relief administration, first vice president; Edward M. Kahn, second vice president, and Mrs. Mary Kate Duskun, executive secretary. Mrs. Duskun, who is in charge of the Atlanta offices at 11 Pryor street, invited those interested to communicate with her at Walnut 0334.

MONEY BACK IF DIZZY SPELLS DO NOT CEASE

It would be foolish of anyone to claim for any remedy that it will stop dizzy spells but Kruschen Salts is well worth a trial and is offered with the clear understanding that if it doesn't help you wonderfully—money back.

Just do this: take as much Kruschen as will lie on a dime every morning in your cup of tea or coffee (tasteful that way)—read further about Kruschen.

It stimulates the action of liver, gall bladder, bowels and kidneys. It clears — and keeps clear the intestinal tract of clogging waste, acids and poisons which if allowed to get into the blood often cause illness and skin blemishes.

All those bodily ills that befog the brain and irritate the temper—headache—dizziness—listlessness—stomach gas—disappear to be replaced by a wonderful feeling of happiness, of contentment, of alertness and brightness of brain and body.

You'll sleep like a log and your appetite gets the keen edge of a hungry schoolboy's.

Try just one jar of Kruschen you folks who are not enjoying glorious health—an 85-cent jar will last you 8 weeks and if after taking just one jar you do not say that the 6 precious salts of Kruschen are not worth many times the cost—your money is waiting for you.

IT'S THE LITTLE DAILY DOSE THAT DOES IT

FLORIDA LEGIONNAIRES HEAR QUIMBY MELTON

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Efforts of the American Legion to stamp out communism in education and other institutions through an educational program and its position on immediate payment of the bonus were outlined today at the closing session of the annual mid-winter conference of the Florida department.

Declaring communism is taking hold of youth and social institutions by organizing groups to counter American organizations in schools and colleges, Homer Chailloux, national chairman of Americanism, said the legion and its auxiliary must combat the movement by acquainting the public with it.

In dealing with the bonus, Quimby Melton, Griffin, Ga., southern vice commander, said the Legion's stand on its immediate payment had been overemphasized because it made news which had resulted in other worthwhile projects of its program being minimized. He said the use of the word "bonus" was a misnomer, as it was not applied to the payment by the government of several billions of dollars to civilian employees, railroads and manufacturers in "adjustments" in 1919.

Several hundred members of the state auxiliary attended a meeting of that body held in conjunction with the legion. The auxiliary and the legion held a joint meeting during the afternoon.

6 KILLED, 14 HURT IN FRENCH CRASH

MONTPELLIER, France, Feb. 3. (UP)—Six persons were killed and 14 injured were taken to a hospital tonight when an autobus filled with supporters of the local rugby team crashed into a tree on the national highway.

Don't you want DEPENDABLE RELIEF when you have a headache?

Just relieving the pain seldom gives you the relief you should have. Often headaches return after the use of remedies that go no further than merely killing pain.

Bromo-Seltzer is different. It's a balanced preparation of 5 medicinal ingredients. Each brings a special benefit—relieving pain much more promptly and thoroughly... increasing your alkaline reserve... relaxing and soothing you.

Above all, Bromo-Seltzer is pleasant-tasting... a welcome change from bitter products. And you do not have to wait for Bromo-Seltzer to dissolve.

Contains no narcotics and doesn't upset the stomach.

BROMO-SELTZER

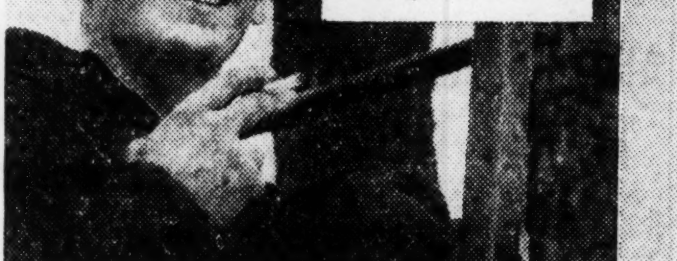

DRAFTSMAN REPORTS: "Camels bring back the feeling of mental alertness that every draftsman needs. And never have they given me any sign of ragged nerves." (Signed) FRANKLIN DOMINICK

"THE FIRST TIME I ever smoked a Camel, I 'fell hard' for their mild, rich taste," says this expert tree surgeon. "Camels help to relieve tiredness after a hard day's work." (Signed) H. L. VOUGH

STORE MANAGER SAYS: "When I'm tired, I smoke a Camel and my energy revives. I call a Camel 'the smoke that cheers.' Camels never jangle my nerves." (Signed) GEORGE F. STAFFORD

Walter O'Keefe, Annette Hanshaw, Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra over coast-to-coast WABC-Columbia Network.

TUESDAY 10:00 P.M. E.S.T. 9:00 P.M. C.S.T. 8:00 P.M. M.S.T. 7:00 P.M. P.S.T. THURSDAY 9:00 P.M. E.S.T. 8:00 P.M. C.S.T. 7:00 P.M. M.S.T. 6:00 P.M. P.S.T.

LISTEN IN

You'll like the Camel Caravan starring Walter O'Keefe, Annette Hanshaw, Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra over coast-to-coast WABC-Columbia Network.

TUESDAY 10:00 P.M. E.S.T. 9:00 P.M. C.S.T. 8:00 P.M. M.S.T. 7:00 P.M. P.S.T. THURSDAY 9:00 P.M. E.S.T. 8:00 P.M. C.S.T. 7:00 P.M. M.S.T. 6:00 P.M. P.S.T.

Copyright, 1935 R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

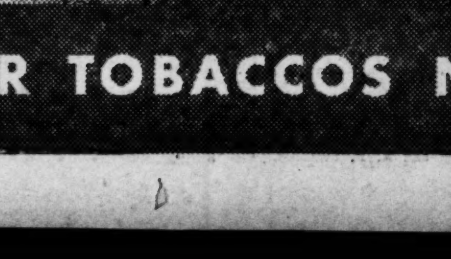

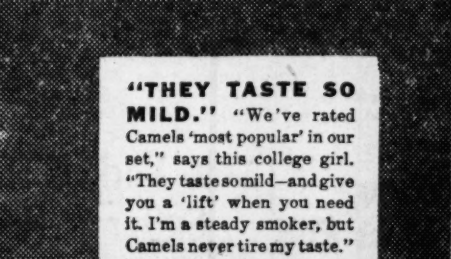

(Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos - Turkish and Domestic - than any other popular brand.

(Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TO RELIEVE FATIGUE...

get a Lift with a Camel!

● Above, Jack Shea, champion speed skater, whose brilliant Olympic victories are especially memorable. He says: "Any one who goes in for speed skating needs an abundant supply of stamina and energy. I feel pretty well used up after the last hard sprint to the tape. When people mention my being a cigarette smoker, I correct them and say, 'I'm a Camel smoker.' Camels restore my 'pep.' Their 'lifting' effect is noticeable in a few minutes. Smoking Camels never disturbs my nerves. For sheer pleasure, there's nothing like a Camel." (Signed) JACK SHEA

Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos - Turkish and Domestic - than any other popular brand.

(Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos - Turkish and Domestic - than any other popular brand.

(Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos - Turkish and Domestic - than any other popular brand.

(Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

Vanderbilt Opposes Sugar Bowl

Vote Slated Against Game at S.E.C. Meet

New Orleans Will Make Offer at Meeting Friday in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 3.—(UP)—Vanderbilt will vote against permitting Southeastern conference members to participate in Sugar Bowl post-season football games at New Orleans, Dr. L. C. Glenn, faculty representative, said tonight.

Glenn, discussing plans for the conference's annual meeting here next week, said that he understood representatives of the New Orleans Sports Association, sponsoring the Sugar Bowl battle, will present an offer at the meeting.

"Vanderbilt officially has always opposed the playing of post-season games," Glenn asserted. "We feel that the boys should be allowed to rest at the end of the regular season and devote their time to studies rather than continuing football activities and probably jeopardizing their scholastic standing."

Although Vanderbilt has joined in permitting conference team competing in the Rose Bowl festival Glenn stated that the university's vote will oppose further exceptions for the Sugar Bowl or other post-season games.

Conference representatives will meet here Friday and Saturday. Other questions to be discussed, Glenn added, include lengthening of the pre-season football practice period, setting of a definite date for launching freshman drills and increasing the number of games played by freshman teams.

Glenn said several members favored starting freshman practice on September 15 and others on October 1. The ruling now specifies matriculation day which varies at different institutions.

Big 13 varsity squads would be allowed to start practice September 1 instead of the first Monday in September under one suggestion offered by Glenn.

Freshman teams, under present regulations, may play only one game a season.

Other conference representatives indicated that recruiting, eligibility, broadcasts of games, selection of officials and revival of the conference basketball tournament will be debated.

Josh Cady, Vanderbilt basketball coach, disapproves of the cage tournament. Several other coaches in the conference favor its renewal.

Spring Practice Begins at 'BAMA

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Feb. 3.—Spring grid work at Alabama will get under way tomorrow with freshmen and reserves starting work. A week later the varsity will start uniforms.

Coach Thomas faces a big task in rebuilding the Tide for next fall. Nine seniors who carried the Tide to a championship season and a win in the Rose Bowl will be missing from the 1935 team. Six of these nine were regulars.

Seniors who are lost are Joe Diddy, center; Don Hutson and Ralph Gaudin, ends; Bob Morrow and Charlie Marr, guards; Bill Lee, tackle; Harry Campbell, quarterback; Dick Howell, halfback; and Joe Demanyovich, fullback. All of these except Diddy, Gaudin and Campbell were regulars.

Promising men coming up from the undeveloped freshman team include Mackoff, center; Minsky, Bostick and Adams, guards; Dutch King, Ross and George King, tackles; Warren, E. Johnson, Butler, ends; Roberts, Shoemaker, Gunter, C. Johnson, Caldwell, Kilgore and Hughes, backs.

The first two days or so will be devoted largely to conditioning work. Coach Thomas stated today. By the third practice session, however, fundamentals will be started. Few plays will be given out until the work is well along.

The shift will be taught, also, to the new men who have not been taught it.

A large number of candidates for the 1935 Tide is expected to turn out for the spring work.

Down the Alley

Hawkins Electric Company fattened their lead considerably, in the Southern Duckpin league, by winning four of the six games played in a double-header with the Dr. Pepper Bottling Company.

Lee, of Hawkins, had 677 for the six games as his team was coming out on the long end of the scores. Edwards and Hays contributed big games to the Hawkins totals, also. Pat Barron won the tie score of the evening, for Dr. Pepper Bottling Company, with 672; Smith had 680 for the bottlers.

Gus Allard's 642 series aided the Independents in winning two games from the Strikers.

One or more preliminary duckpin sweepstakes will be bowled immediately following the league games, the winner of which will receive a paid-up $10 entry to the John B. Bess sweepstakes that will be bowled this Saturday. The entry fee for the preliminary events is $1.

Roy C. Ellis won the "less than 90 average" bowlers' duckpin tournament, with a high five-game total of 505, surpassing the winning mark of last year by 21 pins, as he annexed the title and trophy. Ellis had games of 110, 93, 101, 105 and 96.

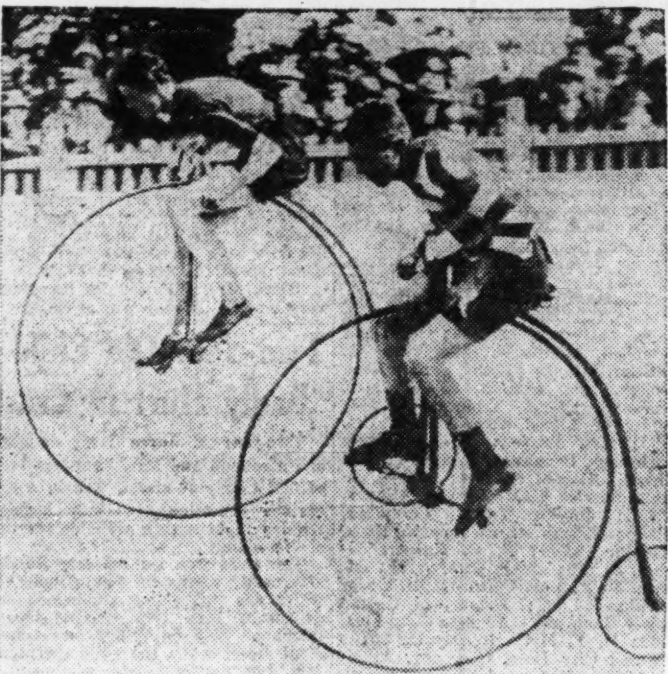

Roy Arnold was second with a set of 502. Others who finished close were F. B. (Shorty) Gessner, 490; W. J. Webb, 484; H. B. Jeffries, 495; and Roy Goen, 490.

Al Christy had the high single game of 140 as the FERA Duckpin league got away to its first scheduled games. Other good scores were bowled by Keene, Bowers, Brown, Johnson, Mayfield, Everett, Herron, Echols, Gill, Tracey, McMullin, Gessner, Reagan, Stewart and McFar.

The Zachry Clothing Company, in an attempt to strengthen their re-

THE SPORT PARADE

WHEN THE BIG WHEEL WAS THE TOP OF SPORT.

The sport fan has to travel back about 40 years to get any big kick out of this picture. But there was a day when the Big Wheel meant a sporting thrill, long before the first motor had ever sent an automobile on its way. In the earlier days of bicycle racing these were the machines that featured any number of road races. And with 10 or 12 moving abreast, a jam meant something when you took a header. (International News Photo.) (Copyright, 1935, by Grantland Rice.)

'Dizzy' Pulls 'Fast One' On Cardinal Owners

Holdout Fails To Show Up for Conference With Breardon and Frisch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The "brain trust" of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals gathered in one hotel suite today but Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, who would like to get $25,000 for his pitching labors in 1935, failed to show up for a scheduled informal discussion with his bosses.

Owner Sam Breadon, Business Manager Branch Rickey, Playing Manager Frank Frisch and various other officials of the Cardinals' fact-finding baseball enterprises all were in town for the baseball writers' annual dinner tonight and for the National league meeting Tuesday, but at nightfall there still had been no sign of Dean, although the great right-hander was registered at the same hotel.

"This business is a mystery to me," said Breadon. "The last I heard from Dean he was perfectly satisfied with the terms we offered and was ready to sign."

"Since then I haven't heard from him directly at all. All I know of his reported demand for $25,000 is what I have read in the newspapers. I have come to New York simply to attend the baseball writers' dinner and the league meetings and I have made no plans for a formal conference with Dean on the salary question."

"Of course, since I'll be here for three days I'll undoubtedly run across Dizzy at one time or another, especially since he's in the same hotel. When we do meet we may talk over the situation."

Dean himself, for the time being at any rate, was unavailable for comment. He declared yesterday that his previous statement that he had agreed to terms had been based upon the impression that the club's contract had called for a $25,000 salary for 1935. He discovered later, he said that the offer was $17,500.

"I haven't signed a contract," he said, "and I won't sign one for less than $25,000. That offer stands for $25,000 and then my demand will be $50,000."

Dean himself, for the time being at any rate, was unavailable for comment. He declared yesterday that his previous statement that he had agreed to terms had been based upon the impression that the club's contract had called for a $25,000 salary for 1935. He discovered later, he said that the offer was $17,500.

"I haven't signed a contract," he said, "and I won't sign one for less than $25,000. That offer stands for $25,000 and then my demand will be $50,000."

Dean himself, for the time being at any rate, was unavailable for comment. He declared yesterday that his previous statement that he had agreed to terms had been based upon the impression that the club's contract had called for a $25,000 salary for 1935. He discovered later, he said that the offer was $17,500.

"I haven't signed a contract," he said, "and I won't sign one for less than $25,000. That offer stands for $25,000 and then my demand will be $50,000."

Dean himself, for the time being at any rate, was unavailable for comment. He declared yesterday that his previous statement that he had agreed to terms had been based upon the impression that the club's contract had called for a $25,000 salary for 1935. He discovered later, he said that the offer was $17,500.

"I haven't signed a contract," he said, "and I won't sign one for less than $25,000. That offer stands for $25,000 and then my demand will be $50,000."

Dean himself, for the time being at any rate, was unavailable for comment. He declared yesterday that his previous statement that he had agreed to terms had been based upon the impression that the club's contract had called for a $25,000 salary for 1935. He discovered later, he said that the offer was $17,500.

"I haven't signed a contract," he said, "and I won't sign one for less than $25,000. That offer stands for $25,000 and then my demand will be $50,000."

Dean himself, for the time being at any rate, was unavailable for comment. He declared yesterday that his previous statement that he had agreed to terms had been based upon the impression that the club's contract had called for a $25,000 salary for 1935. He discovered later, he said that the offer was $17,500.

"I haven't signed a contract," he said, "and I won't sign one for less than $25,000. That offer stands for $25,000 and then my demand will be $50,000."

AMATEUR TRIALS TO OPEN TODAY AT THOMASVILLE

Sixteen or More Dogs To Vie for Title Held by Coming Storm.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Sportsmen wintering in this section tonight awaited the opening of the twentieth annual Georgia-Florida amateur field trials at the Norfork Hunting Club on Lake Meconaskee near tomorrow.

With clear, crisp weather in prospect, many notables were expected to watch 16 or more dogs compete in the all-out event for the championship now held by The Coming Storm, pointer owned by Udo M. Fleischmann.

The entries will not be announced until tomorrow and it was not definitely known whether The Coming Storm will have a dog entered. Among the probable entries also is C. V. Whitney's Chester, runner-up last year.

The following owners have entered dogs for the trials: Robert W. Bingham, George F. Baker Jr., C. V. Whitney, Walter C. Teague, William Farrish, U. M. Fleischmann, Hendon Chubb, Gerald Sully, George W. Wainwright and John Hay Whitney, all of New York; L. S. Thompson, Red Bank, N. J.; T. C. Chubb, Thomasville; R. W. Woodruff, Atlanta; Mrs. P. W. Harvey and Miss Ireland, of Cleveland.

'Kid' Team Seen For Cincinnati; Only 13 Regulars

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Only 13 players, regulars with the Cincinnati Reds last year, remain on the club roster for 1935, the club made known today, and indications are the number will shrink still further before the cry "play ball" resounds once more.

The roster lists 38 players. Nineteen are brand-new to Cincinnati uniforms. Six of them saw training camp or other part time service with the tail-enders last season.

And the roster confirmed, as well, assertions that the Reds will be the "kid" club of major league baseball this year. The average age of the 38 listed is 27, the average height 5 feet 11 inches, and the average weight 150 lbs.—a husky youngster, if only he plays ball.

Clayton Kershaw is the oldest member of the squad as it stands today, with 38 years behind him. Gene Schott, recruit pitcher from Toronto, the youngest—he won't be 22 until next July.

But of the 38 men, only one is a native of Cincinnati—Larry Benton, of the pitching staff, and Benton, along with Ray Kola, Sparky Adams, and Clyde Manion, is a 10-year man who may not see service when the season comes around.

HAFLEY MAY RETIRE. With the club formally denying any plans to dispose of Jim Bottomley, fabledly shifted its interest ever since he was traded to the Reds. In fact, there was one report that Hafley, a former National league most valuable player, has considered retiring from the game because of the state of his health.

Pitchers and catchers of the Reds are to start spring training at Tampa, Fla., February 22, after a 10-day workout at Hot Springs, Ark. Infielders and outfielders are to report February 28.

Hugh Critz's Brother Groomed for Post CLARKSDALE, Miss., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Wiley Critz, 17-year-old Clarksdale youth, and cousin of Hughie Critz, second baseman for the New York Giants, is being groomed by Coach Dan F. Crumpton, of Clarksdale High, for a place in major league baseball.

Crumpton attended high school with Hughie and says Wiley shows greater promise for second or short than his famous cousin did at the same age.

Critz plans to enter college with his graduation from the high school where he also is the football team's quarterback.

'34 Tobacco Revenue Set at $452,366,438

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(UP)—Tobacco taxes brought a record revenue of $452,366,438 to the United States government in 1934, internal revenue bureau figures showed tonight.

The 1934 tobacco revenues compared with the previous record peak of $449,058,964 collected in the boom year of 1929. They touched the depression low of $387,271,298 in 1932 and rose to $400,308,921 in 1933.

The collections comprised $377,478,602 from cigarettes; $61,972,136 from manufactured tobacco and snuff; $11,934,065 from cigars and $881,625 from cigar papers and tubes.

Fair, Cooler Weather Forecast for Today

The weather in Atlanta today will be slightly colder than it was Sunday and will be fair, the United States weather bureau forecasters here predicted.

Sunday the temperature ranged from 35 to 45 degrees, with cloudy skies which virtually obscured the sun's partial eclipse, but today the weather men say the high point to be touched by the thermometer will be 22 degrees, though the low of 40 degrees will be higher than Sunday's.

No rain is in sight for this city within the next few days.

Seven Are Accused In Poison Rum Deaths

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Three warrants for first-degree murder and four for manslaughter were issued here today in connection with the poison liquor traffic which has claimed 31 lives in Utica and Gloversville in the last week.

Only one of the accused seven—

On the Radio Waves Today

336.9 Meters WGST 890 Kilocycles	405.2 Meters WSB 740 Kilocycles
6:00 A. M.—Tennessee Ramblers and Harp.	6:35 A. M.—Another Day.
6:30—Morning Jubilee.	7:00—Morning Devotions, NBC.
6:45—Air Cooled program.	7:15—William Weaver, organist, NBC.
7:00—Musical Sunday.	7:30—Cheerio, talk and music, NBC.
7:15—Modern Melodies.	8:00—Breakfast Club, orchestra, NBC.
8:00—Early P.M. News, CBS.	9:00—Josephine Gibson, NBC.
8:15—Christian Council.	9:15—Clara, Lu and Em, NBC.
8:30—Solists, NBC.	9:30—Solists, NBC.
8:45—Radio News, NBC.	9:45—Press-Radio News, NBC.
9:00—PRESS RADIO NEWS AND CONSTITUTION BROADCAST.	9:50—News.
9:10—News and Headlines.	10:00—U. S. Navy band, NBC.
9:25—Studio.	10:05—Chinese New Year's day, NBC.
9:30—Chargold Mystery Music.	10:15—Benett Sisters, vocal trio, NBC.
9:40—Land of Dreams, CBS.	10:30—Farm and Home Hour, NBC.
10:15—News.	12:30 P. M.—Red and Raymond.
10:30—Reflections of Romance.	12:45—NBC Music Guild, NBC.
10:45—Waiter Time, CBS.	1:00—NBC Music Guild, NBC.
11:00—The Old Philosopher.	1:15—Irving Kennedy, tenor, NBC.
11:15—The Gumps, radio sketch, CBS.	2:00—Olla Elder and Jimmy Barry.
11:30—Studio.	2:15—Red Davis, skater, NBC.
11:45—Schlappeil Fashion Opening, CBS.	2:30—Dreams Come True, Barry McKimley's songs.
12:00—Crissy Tennessee Ramblers.	2:45—Bill Gattin's Jug Band.
12:15—Allan Leifer's orchestra, CBS.	3:00—News.
12:30 P. M.—Studio.	3:15—Woman's Radio Review, NBC.
1:00—Disco Fingers with Joe Al Brown.	3:30—FERRA Recreation Hour.
1:15—The Little House Family, CBS.	4:00—Al Pearce and his gang, NBC.
1:30—American School of the Air, CBS.	4:15—El Chico, Spanish Rector, NBC.
2:00—Your Hostess, CBS.	4:30—George Sterner's orchestra, NBC.
2:15—Savoy Orchestra, CBS.	4:45—Gillic Kids' harmony trio.
2:30—Dr. Felton Williams.	5:00—Brennan College program.
2:45—Chicago Variety program, CBS.	5:15—U. S. Army band, NBC.
3:00—Arthur Warren's orchestra, CBS.	5:30—Atlanta District Message of the Layman's Institute of the Southern Methodist Episcopal church.
3:15—The Little House Family, CBS.	5:40—Three X Sisters, NBC.
3:30—Through Life with Betty and Bob.	5:50—Linda Orphan Annie, NBC.
3:45—Crazy Tennessee Ramblers.	6:00—News.
3:55—Press Radio News, CBS.	6:15—Plantation Echoes.
4:00—Land of Dreams, CBS.	6:30—Red Davis, skater, NBC.
4:15—Leon Belasco's orchestra, CBS.	6:45—Dangerous Paradise, sketch, NBC.
4:30—Buck Rogers in the 20th Century.	7:00—Pete Underwood's orchestra.
4:45—News.	7:30—The Voice of Firestone, featuring Gladys Underwood, NBC.
4:55—Crissy Tennessee Ramblers.	8:00—Sincere Greater Ministries, NBC.
5:00—Press Radio News, CBS.	8:30—The Little House Family, NBC.
5:15—Leon Belasco's orchestra, CBS.	9:00—The Lullaby Land, NBC.
5:30—Buck Rogers in the 20th Century.	9:30—Lieutenant Commissioner Ernest Fugimile.
5:45—News.	10:00—Amos 'n' Andy, NBC.
5:55—Crissy Tennessee Ramblers.	10:30—Willie Keama's Hawaiians.
6:00—Press Radio News, CBS.	11:00—St. Louis Symphony orchestra, NBC.
6:15—Leon Belasco's orchestra, CBS.	11:30—Arty Kaschel's orchestra, NBC.
6:30—Buck Rogers in the 20th Century.	12:00—Sign off.

On the Air Today

LUCRECIA BORI—The glamorous lyric soprano of the Metropolitan, Lucrecia Bori, will be heard in a program of light ballads and classics during her broadcast on the Chesterfield program with Andre Kostelanetz over WGST from 8 to 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The vocal ensemble and 40-piece orchestra under the direction of Kostelanetz will present a number of brilliantly arranged dance tunes.

FASHION OPENING—The Schiaparelli fashion opening in Paris, with its new collection of costume creations, will be described in a broadcast over WGST at 11:45 o'clock this morning.

THE BIG SHOW—Another famous opera will be described by the popular team of comedians, Block and Sully, when they are heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight. They will present their version of how dialog should be modernized and the arias sung. Ludi Gluskin will act as prompter and will conduct his orchestra in several intermission numbers.

Gertrude Nissen, who refuses to become embroiled in the modernization of operas, will continue to sing her own characteristic blues songs.

DOCTORS, DOLLARS, DISEASES—Haven Emerson, M. D., of the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons, has been scheduled as the next speaker to be heard on the "Doctors, Dollars and Diseases" broadcast. Dr. Emerson will be heard over WGST at 9:30 o'clock tonight.

His subject is "Where Doctors Are Lacking and Why."

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

OTIS NELSON—Otis Nelson, pianist, will be heard during "The Big Show" over WGST from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight.

In Georgia's FIELDS and STREAMS

There seems to be much more interest in fish culture in Georgia than I thought for. The article I had Saturday brought in numbers of telephone calls and several letters and bulletins have been mailed out to those who have applied. There are still a few of those pamphlets on hand, however, which you may have if you are interested. I refer to "Propagation of Pondfishes," by Al C. James, and also to "Water Areas, How to Create and Maintain Them." Please specify which of the two bulletins you want; you either have a pond and want to raise fish or you want to build a pond. I regret that my budget will not allow me to send both to every applicant, but I am serving you the best I can under present conditions.

Pond culture is a matter of common sense packed with a stuffing of scientific principles. I do not imply that one has to be an aquabologist to understand pond culture, but there are some principles that are basic. They are simple and anyone in the world can understand them. To apply them, pure cold common sense is necessary. If you haven't that, all the science in the world will not help you anyway. You had better take up ping-pong.

There is a fascination about water that seems to be universal. One of the things most often heard by realtors, I am told, when a customer asks for country place, is that it has a stream or a pond on it. That is the reason that lake front property demands higher prices than two or three times the area not on the shoreline. People like water. There is something of the explorer in everyone and they like to probe about and see what they can find in water. Half the animals that come to me for identification in the spring are from ponds or streams.

Some waters, however, cannot be cultivated. You might spend your year's income on such bodies and not get back five cents on your investment. It would pay first to have an examination made of the source of your water before you go to the expense of building a dam, however small it may be. Some waters will support abundant aquatic life, and others will kill everything off.

The main thing to remember is to make the shore line irregular. Remember the maxim I gave you once before? The greater the shoreline distance in relation to the area of any body of water, the greater the biological productivity of that body. Biological productivity, in this case, means the number of fish the area will grow.

Methodists Say F.D.R. Cut Living Standards

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The Methodist Federation of Social Service said today in a summary of recovery measures that President Roosevelt's New Deal legislation had created greater unemployment and lowered the American standard of living.

The federation asserted that another effect of the president's policies had been to put "the bankers back into control of government."

The report, issued by Dr. Harry F. Ward, of Union Theological Seminary, and Winifred I. Chappell, secretary of the federation, is to be distributed to members of the federation, chiefly ministers of the Methodist and other churches and laymen interested in social service.

Liberty League Asks Careful Security Study

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The American Liberty League said today "there can be no excuse for too hasty action" on the administration's social security program as embodied in the Wagner-Doughnut bill.

The administration has urged speedy passage to enable state legislatures to enact measures to supplement the federal legislation.

"The many subjects involved," the League's statement said, "are too important to be acted upon by the congress without adequate consideration. It should be possible to obtain prompt action in the states through special sessions of legislatures in cases where adjournment may have been taken in advance of the enactment of a federal law."

Need for a uniform currency was expressed by the committee, which added that "government bonds should not be used as a backing for currency except in an emergency."

Establishment of a government-owned and operated banking system was not approved by the committee.

As a result, we have today a complexity of banking laws and amendments thereto and a duplication of authority and supervision confusing alike to the banker, businessman and citizen.

"Furthermore, we have at the present time, neither a currency system nor a banking system. By reason of the emergency legislation passed in March, 1933, our former system has been discarded and in its place there has been substituted a currency dictatorship which cannot in any sense be described as a system adequate to meet needs of modern economic life."

"The federal reserve system has been largely diverted from its original purpose."

The committee expressed the belief that issuance of currency should be vested in a non-political authority, that the currency should be redeemable only in gold at a fixed and unchangeable ratio.

Need for a uniform currency was expressed by the committee, which added that "government bonds should not be used as a backing for currency except in an emergency."

Establishment of a government-owned and operated banking system was not approved by the committee.

As a result, we have today a complexity of banking laws and

Alsop-Jefferson Wedding Takes Place in Noroton, Conn., March 1

By Sally Forth.

GOOD-LOOKING Floyd W. Jefferson and pretty Eleanor Alsop, his bride-to-be, will spend their honeymoon in Bermuda, for they will sail for the enchanted isle immediately after their marriage on March 1. They will plight their troth at a ceremony taking place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the picturesque Episcopal church in Noroton, Conn., the home of Mrs. Frederick Nelson, the bride-elect's mother. Emily Alsop will serve as maid-of-honor for her sister, and Edward Alsop will journey all the way from Paris to give his daughter in marriage. Laura Maddox, Eleanor's pretty young cousin, will lay aside her studies temporarily at the Finch school to attend the important event.

The romance of Eleanor and Floyd had its inception here, when the bride-elect visited her cousin, Mrs. James E. Hickey, at her Wesley avenue residence last summer. The groom-to-be accepted a position at a cotton mill in Columbus, and came to Atlanta to spend almost every week-end. It was upon one of these weekly visits that he met the charming Eleanor, and it was a case of love at first sight the very moment his eyes rested upon his fair bride-to-be. Needless to say, Mrs. Hickey will be numbered among the most interested guests attending the auspicious rites, and expects to leave at an early date to take part in the social festivities incident to the nuptials that will transpire the fair Eleanor into Mrs. Floyd W. Jefferson. Other ties that bind the future Mrs. Jefferson to Atlanta is the fact that her mother is the former Eula Jackson; that she is the namesake granddaughter of Mrs. Henry S. Jackson; and that Robert F. Maddox is her maternal uncle.

A BEAUTIFUL expression of devotion to mother is made by the annual pilgrimage of Mrs. Leopold J. Haas to Philadelphia, her native city, for the celebration of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Sarah L. Stern, which takes place each January. For over a quarter of a century Mrs. Haas has entrained for the quiet old city to spend several weeks with her aged mother and to join with other members of her family in the birthday celebration.

Mrs. Haas returned a few days ago from the Quaker City after having attended the eighty-fourth observance of Mrs. Stern's birthday, the occasion assembling relatives from far and near beneath the hospitable roof of the Stern home.

Upon her marriage 33 years ago, Mrs. Haas, who was the daughter of Miss Viola Stern, of Philadelphia, promised a visit each year to her Pennsylvania home and, through the succeeding years, she has adhered to her plan. Mr. and Mrs. Haas established residence here in 1902 at the majestic hotel, where representative Georgians made their home. The old hotel was the center for an interesting and cultural group residing in this city and occupied a prominent site on Peachtree street between Ellis and Cain streets. In those days business houses had not encroached upon the adjoining property and the majestic, long since demolished, was a stately landmark of the grandeur of another era.

HISTORY repeated itself Sunday when Little Laura Palmer Woody was christened at St. Mark church wearing the same dainty dress worn by her maternal grandfather, the late Walter O. Foote, when he was christened 67 years ago. Made of sheerest white batiste, the dress has acquired a delicate cream color with age and is trimmed with tiny hand-made tucks. A low square-cut neck and tiny short sleeves edged with fragile lace, the style of baby dresses of a century ago, are quaint features of the little robe in which the children and grandchildren of the Foote family have all been christened.

Laura Palmer is the attractive name given the little girl, the first name being that of her grandmother Foote and also the name of her first cousin, Miss Laura Troutman, who is a popular debutante of this season, and who, at the christening Sunday, assumed the responsibility of godmother for the baby. Friends of the little girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Woody, predict that she is destined to be a beloved and popular belle as was her mother when she was Miss Anne Foote and who is now listed among this city's most prominent young matrons.

Hardy Herbaceous Border Treated In Garden Center Publicity Today

The garden center, located at Rich's, Inc., is featuring information about perennial borders for February. The herbaceous border is one of the delights of every garden. According to H. H. Thomas, horticulturist, if planted with a careful selection of plants, it remains gay from early summer until autumn, and it gives an opportunity to display attractive color schemes. Garden flowers that have been favorites for generations may be included in the selection. However, there is no need to rely on the old favorites, for most of them have been superseded by others that are more vigorous and bloom through a longer period, and have flowers of more attractive coloring. In no phase of gardening is thoroughness better repaid than in making a border of hardy herbaceous perennials.

As most of the plants used are perennials, and may be undisturbed for several years, it is appropriate that the preparation of the soil is the first important detail. The ground should be dug to a depth of 20 inches and enriched with well decayed manure. The subsoil should not be brought to the top. The best way of keeping it in its original position is by means of double digging or trenching. If heavy soil is being dealt with, the top soil may be improved by the addition of wood ashes, while the lower soil may be brought into better condition if incorporated with manure, and bone meal. If possible a position facing south should be selected for the herbaceous border. Most soil can be rendered suitable. The ideal one is well drained, loamy ground. The size of the border may depend on the extent of the garden, but one that is 15 to 20 yards long and 10 feet wide, will provide an excellent display.

The best site may be spoiled by an unsuitable background or an unsuitable foreground. An old stone wall or an evergreen hedge makes an excellent background. If it is a wall, it may be covered with climbing roses, clematis, or wisteria. A background of a stretch of lawn is good, for it provides a restful setting for the flowering plants. If the border abuts on a flagstone or gravel path, the path should consist of a low stone edging covered with various low growing flowering plants. In the main, the large class of plants which figure under the heading of hardy herbaceous perennials are of so vigorous and enduring a nature, that they submit to planting either in autumn or in spring. A principle involved in the latter, is that the work be timely done, in order that the plants become established before dry weather and a fair display may be seen, which even in the first year. In a general way, the majority transplant will just prior to new growth appearing. The herbaceous perennials are best planted in early autumn, because of their continuous rooting and the loss of root fiber.

In this way the plants acquire a good hold in their new situations before the arrival of spring. Amateurs often make the mistake of planting large clumps in the belief that they will make a good display sooner, but they take longer to become established than small plants. In arranging the plants, spaces should be left here and there, in which various annuals can be sown, which may be replaced by border chrysanthemums and they in turn may be succeeded by wall flowers planted in October or November. In planting it is necessary to dig wide holes, but they need not be very deep, except for such tap-rooted plants as lupine and anemone. When dividing old plants, the young insisterous ones should be replanted. The crocus and snowdrops furnish the earlier flower groups, in the foreground of the border.

RUG
Cleaning and Repairing
by
SHARIAN
DE. 5190

Leopards bane, an easily grown plant, 2 feet high, bearing daisy-like flowers, blooms in March and April with evergreen candytuft, and bulb flowers such as scilla. In April and May, come the daffodils and tulips. Following the early display there should be aquilegia, anemone, anemone, peony and iris. These will remain attractive until the end of June, when many flowering plants are in full bloom. Every border should contain clumps of Madonna lily and Real lily, which never looks better than when associated with stately blue delphiniums. Later in the summer the herbaceous perennials will be at their best. Snapdragons and peonies and various annuals will provide a showy color. A list of the best herbaceous perennials, height, color, and blooming season, will be given on February 10 in the garden center publicity.

During February a lecture will be given by an authority on the hardy herbaceous border, and a day will be given to the garden. Another lecture will be given on amateur small greenhouses and the heating of them. A new system of heating has been devised and this will be explained. An efficient illustrated catalog will be given gratis to each visitor to the center containing listings of perennials, annuals and the best varieties of bush and climbing roses, early vegetables and information concerning the care and feeding of birds. The cover carries a display of the new glorious Gleam double nasturtium, which is fragrant and shown is a variety of colors. The fragrant nasturtium is a new discovery in horticulture.

Chairmen for the week are: Monday, Wm. End Garden Club, Mesdames C. M. Settle, C. D. Benton, Charles Wheeler, J. H. Bodson, J. W. Simons, R. L. Grant, and C. H. Glass. Tuesday, Garden Club, Mrs. Albert Case and her committee. Wednesday, Peony Garden Club, Mesdames Clarence Mills, Willis Dobbs, J. G. Dodson and J. T. Deas. Thursday, Decatur Garden Club, Mesdames Guy Hudson, Bruce Hull, W. M. Miller, Frida, Lullwater Garden Club, Mesdames Roy Mason, J. T. Deas, and J. G. Dodson. Friday, Garden Club, Mesdames Harrison Jones and Eugene Haynes. Thorne Flager and J. W. Goldsmith Jr.

Decatur Parties.

Two card parties will be sponsored by the Decatur Boys' High P. T. A. Thursday, February 7, at 10 a. m. There will be gifts for those attending. At noon when luncheon is served there will be a fashion show and at night during the serving of refreshments there will also be a display of frocks on attractive models. The charge will be 35 cents.

Personals

Mrs. Charles A. Sisson and Mrs. Ernest Robinson leave today for New York city, and will sail on Thursday on the steamer Statendam, to enjoy the pleasure of a Mediterranean cruise. They will spend several days at the Commodore hotel before sailing for Europe.

Miss Elizabeth Thompson has returned to See Island Reef after spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Thompson, on Fairview road.

Mrs. E. M. Yaw is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Green Johnson at the Marion apartments in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Mrs. Yaw will return to Atlanta in the early spring.

A. H. Kempton of Washington, D. C., is at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. Andrew Calhoun and Miss Louise Calhoun leave today for Miami, FL, to spend two weeks at the Columbus hotel.

Mrs. C. H. Kersey and Mrs. P. A. Kenna have taken an apartment for the winter at the Hotel New Weston in New York city.

Sigma Phi Omegas Honor Miss Akers At Supper-Dance

The Delta Mu chapter of the Sigma Phi Omega, high school fraternity, honored its sponsor, Miss Ida Akers, at a tea dance and buffet supper Saturday. The dance was held from 5 to 7 o'clock at Peachtree Gardens, and after the dance members of the active chapter and their dates were entertained at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hartfield on Arbonne drive.

The members are Johnny Echols, Henry Michael, Gilbert Ogg, Earl Knight, Bill Crowley, Louie Mann, Billy Schotanus, Ray Gore, Royal Camp, Billy Webb, Charles Hopkins and Mac Baldwin.

The freshmen are Billy Parks, Julian Wagner, Steve Campbell, Jack Campbell, Edgar Hartfield, Douglas Winfree, Tom Hammond, Spencer Crowley and Fort Land.

The dates for the members included Misses Ida Akers, Dorothy Davis, Alice Armstrong, Jeanette Gilham, Frances Sprattling, Ann Noble, Mildred Ewing, Alice Jean Spratt, Caroline Hale, Jean Fambrough, Virginia Willis, Nancy Ingram, Nancy Schwab, Ann Woodruff, Dot Freeman, Clara Hewlett and Emmy Martin.

Chaperons for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. William Akers, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Echols, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. V. Y. Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hartfield, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Haverly and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Colley.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4.

Mrs. Luther Rosser, president of Young Woman's Christian Association, calls the executive committee to meet with convention and conference delegates at 10:30 o'clock at 37 Auburn avenue.

Executive board of St. Luke's Women's Auxiliary meets at 11 o'clock. Luncheon will be served in the assembly room of the church at 12 o'clock. A general meeting of the auxiliary will be held at 1 o'clock in the assembly room.

Members of the Service group meet at 10:30 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Executive board of Atlanta Council of Parents and Teachers meets at 10 o'clock in Rich's conference room.

Dr. David Marx will speak on "The Decalogue, the Fount and Source of All Morality" at a meeting of the Temple Sisterhood in the temple house on Peachtree road.

Mary E. La Rocca Grove, of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, meets in the Woodman hall in the Masonic building at East Point on 7:30 o'clock.

Auxiliary-guild of the Church of Our Savior meets at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. W. Lee at 1092 St. Louis place, N. E.

Henrietta Mikell Jones' branch of the auxiliary-guild of All Saints' church meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. Fay Pearce at 25 East 19th street, N. E.

St. Mary's chapter of the parish council of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Cathedral of St. Philip meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. S. Gould Sr., at 208 First avenue, S. E.

St. Michael's chapter of the parish council of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Cathedral of St. Philip meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Stuart Gould Jr., 2219 Peachtree road.

Druid Hills Baptist church circle meetings take place today.

W. M. S. of the Cooper Street Baptist church will hold a mission study class at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

W. M. S. of Moreland Avenue Baptist church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Morningside Baptist W. M. S. meets at the church February 4 at 10 o'clock.

Oakland City Baptist W. M. S. meets today.

Rose Croix Chapter No. 257, O. E. S., meets at 7:30 o'clock in Morningside Masonic hall at 1582 1-2 Piedmont road at Boulevard.

John P. Wilkinson, O. E. S., meets this evening.

Ladies' Aid Society of the College Park Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of the East Point Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

W. M. S. of the Central Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of the Peachtree Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Circles of Colonial Hills Baptist church meet today.

W. M. S. of the Kirkwood Baptist church meets at 3 o'clock at the church.

Executive board of the Kirkwood Baptist W. M. S. meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Business meeting of the Tabernacle Baptist W. M. U. will be held at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

Antioch Baptist W. M. S. circles meet at 2:30 o'clock today.

W. M. S. of St. John's Methodist church meets at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. T. Goodman, president, 162 Georgia avenue.

W. B. S. of the Inman Park

California Visitor Arrives Today

Miss Mary Blackwell, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blackwell, of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of Atlanta, who arrives today for a visit of several weeks with her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Verner, at her home, 3215 Peachtree road. Miss Blackwell will receive a cordial welcome from members of the younger social set and will be a popular belle attending the Tech mid-term dances. She is the sister of Earl Blackwell Jr., well-known young movie actor, of Hollywood, Cal.

Winthrop Alumnae Entertain at Tea

The Atlanta chapter of Winthrop Alumnae entertained at tea Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hirsch, 1249 Peachtree street. The guests of honor were Mrs. Fred Lawrence, alumnae president, of Rock Hill, S. C., and Miss Leila Russell, of Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C., secretary of the alumnae association.

The object of the meeting was, in addition to entertaining visitors, to reorganize the alumnae chapter. The new officers selected by the nominating committee and voted on by the members were: president, Mrs. H. H. Hirsch; vice president, Mrs. B. B. Stokes; secretary, Mrs. Harry C. Savage; treasurer, Mrs. J. Henry West; recorder, Mrs. W. A. Huey.

Mrs. Lawrence gave a talk on her vision of Winthrop. Miss Russell gave a talk on the work of the alumnae, past and future. Mrs. C. H. Bridges, a visitor, gave vocal solos, playing her own accompaniments on the piano.

In the dining room tea was served by three granddaughters of the college, Misses Ann and Peggy Crosswell and Norine Huey. Visitors were Mrs. John B. Cooley and Mrs. James B. Turner, of Griffin, Ga.

Baptist Choir Is Entertained.

Mrs. Fred Thomas entertained the Park Avenue Baptist choir Friday evening at her home on Waldo street. J. H. Wheeler, director, led the choir in special songs with Mrs. C. A. Lawson at the piano. Mrs. Gladys Acree had charge of the games and contests. Those winning prizes were: Mrs. W. S. Yancey and Mrs. J. H. Wheeler. Cliff Carter gave impersonations of the Irish.

The officers of the choir are: president, M. M. Haynes; vice president, Milton Hendrix; secretary, Miss Lucy Roberts; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Thomas; director, J. H. Wheeler, and pianist, Mrs. C. A. Lawson.

Those attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wheeler, D. C. Carter, Mrs. Louise Hanson, Mrs. J. O. Jones, L. A. Kocher, L. W. Haynes, Mrs. A. B. Cassell, Thomas Cassell, Carl W. Brannon, Miss Evelyn Steed, Waymon Jackson, Miss Jo Lee Leathwood, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lawson, Mrs. B. F. Crumley, Mrs. A. H. Hembree, Mrs. Gladys Acree, Mrs. W. S. Yancey, Charles Eden, Miss Lucy Roberts, Little Miss Ruth Hanson and Mrs. Fred Thomas.

Methodist church meets at the church at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Geoffrey Crickmay gives an illustrated lecture on "Canada," for the Y. W. C. A. Industrial Club meeting at 6:45 o'clock.

Mrs. F. J. Henry calls a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. nominating committee at 11:30 o'clock.

The Hebrew Orphans' Aid will meet at 2 o'clock at the temple on Peachtree street.

The Church Builders' Club, of Martha Brown Memorial church, meets at 8 o'clock.

A. A. Sisterhood meets in the main auditorium of the congregation at 3 o'clock preceded by a board meeting at the synagogue at 2 o'clock.

WHEN YOUR DAUGHTER COMES TO WOMANHOOD

Most girls in their teens need a tonic and regulator. Give your daughter Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the next few months. Teach her how to guard her health at this critical time. When she is a happy, healthy wife and mother she will thank you.

Sold at all good drug stores.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

AS LOW AS $5.45 AND YOUR OLD BATTERY

STERCH'S
Downstairs Dept., 116 Whitehall St.

Psi Sigma Sorority Announces Pledges And Party Series

The Beta chapter of the Psi Sigma sorority announces its new pledges who were elected recently as follows: Misses Eleanor Werner, Creaghel Reeves, Jane Clonts, Florence Motta, Janice Wise and Martha Gurley.

Active members and officers of the sorority include: Mrs. W. W. Wilson Jr., president; Miss Hilda Reed, vice president; Miss Anne Babington, secretary; Miss Katherine Welsh, treasurer; Miss Boots Sims, Miss Lou McMullen and Mrs. Thomas Frederick Dunham Jr.

The sorority entertained Saturday afternoon at a theater party held at the Fox, honoring the pledges. Miss Anne Babington will entertain in honor of the pledges Tuesday evening, February 5, at her home on Williams Mill road.

Miss Graeme Strouss will be hostess to the sorority and new members on Thursday evening, February 7, at her home on Elmwood drive, N. E. Saturday afternoon, February 9, Miss Katherine Welsh and Mrs. Wilson will be hostesses at a bridge party for the pledges at the home of Miss Welsh on Fourteenth street.

G. S. C. W. Alumnae Club Is Entertained.

The Georgia State College for Women Alumnae Club, of Atlanta, was entertained with a bridge-tee Saturday at the Tavern tea room. The following alumnae served as hostesses: Mrs. Hugh Milby, chairman; Misses Frances Jackson, Emily Campbell, Elyan Anderson, Mary Brooks, Caroline Selman, Clara Lee Cone, May Taylor, Helen Clyatt and Mrs. Warren Jackson. Bridge was played, prizes being won by Miss Mazie Oakes, Mrs. Bertia McLaughlin and Mrs. C. D. Screven.

An interesting business session was conducted by the president, Miss Virginia McMichael. Mrs. Charles H. Battle thanked the club for the silver cup given her little daughter, Barbara Helen. Mrs. A. N. Anderson invited the group to attend a French moving picture to be shown at Emory University sponsored by the classes in foreign languages.

The following members of the club were present: Misses Isabelle Manning, Mary Sparrow, Frances Jackson, Helen Clyatt, Elyan Anderson, Mazie Oakes, Florence Price, Edith Manning, Mary Minter, Leila Watson, Maude and Virginia McMichael, Mesdames John Schley Thompson, C. D. Screven, M. L. Wise, Bertha McLaughlin, Earl Williams, H. O. Burgess, Hugh Milby, Warren Jackson, J. O. Marton, Charles H. Battle, Frank L. Banks, H. W. Pearce, Thomas A. Moyer, L. W. Vane, Elise Yarbrough, Charles M. Davis, A. D. Anderson, J. S. Short and Geraldine McGuigan.

draws served tea. The place cards and decorations carried out the Washington's birthday idea.

Mr. and Mrs. McMaster Are Hosts To Bridge Club in Decatur, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick McMaster were hosts Saturday evening to the members of their bridge club at their home in Decatur. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. John Stone, Dr. and Mrs. James Alsbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Chase Van Valkenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Allen Jr.

Miss Barbara Hastings celebrated her 13th birthday with a party Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hastings. The guests included Misses Karen Norris, Alice Clements, Nancy Wilks, Harriet Hudson, Frances Thomas, Frances Leahr, Jessie Sutton, Betty Harrison, Rose Eveyin Courtney, Olive Howard, Helen O'Brien, Chloé Cochran, Mary Estlin, Betty Jones, Edith Candler, Judith Hastings, Albert Lockwood, Louis Estes, Louis Ingram, Marvin Orestein, Robert Sumpter, Ned Haywood, James Davis, Walter Conklin, Billy Gardner, Warren McLain, Sidney Underwood, Tom McClain, Bobby Whitford, Jimmy Starnes, Sam Houston, Miller Wallace, Charles Poplin, Bob Sanders and Bobby Morris.

Mrs. Davis Saborn will entertain members of her sewing club Tuesday.

The Boys' High school in Decatur will sponsor a benefit bridge at the Decatur Woman's Club, Thursday, February 7, at 10:30 o'clock.

Dr. W. S. Elkin Jr. is improving from a recent illness.

Miss Wister entertained the members of her bridge club Tuesday at her home on Clairmont avenue. The guests included Mesdames Dick McMaster, Charles Houston, John Stone, L. W. Cousins, James Alsbrook, Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Skyles Young, Ira Hardin and W. F. Crowell.

Mrs. Hamilton Ansley has returned from Wesley hospital following an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Terah Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Branch Jr. were hosts Friday evening at a bridge-dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart on Superior avenue.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Holland Feagan, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Myrick Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Kracke, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Elder, Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Estes Jr. Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, Dr. and Mrs. John Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Candler, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Candler Jr. and Mrs. Billy Moore.

Mrs. R. C. Henderson has returned from a visit to her mother at Tallahassee.

Mrs. Sarnett Gardner was hostess Thursday to the members of her bridge-luncheon club.

E. H. Tiedale is at home from Georgia Baptist hospital following an operation.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory is visiting her parents in Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Leonard was hostess Monday to the members of her luncheon-bridge club.

Miss G. Scrutchen entertained the faculty of Winona Park school at an informal tea at her home on Hancock street Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Estes entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday at luncheon.

Y.W.C.A. President Calls Meeting Of Executive Group for Monday

Mrs. Luther Rosser, president of Young Woman's Christian Association, calls the executive committee to meet with convention and conference delegates Monday at 10:30 o'clock, 37 Auburn, to discuss plans for the regional leadership institute to be held in Atlanta, February 12-13, when Y. W. C. A. volunteers and staff from Alabama, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia, will convene for association study and group discussion. National board executives will direct the institute and delegates will have the privilege of hearing distinguished leaders in women's organizations, including among others, Miss Anna V. Rice and Miss Henrietta Rodols, of New York.

Atlanta,

THE GUMPS—ON THE PAN

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—BIG AND FEARSOME

MOON MULLINS—WILLIE'S GOT THE JITTERS

DICK TRACY—Introduced

SMITTY—MOTHER'S HELPER

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER—

Constitution's Daily Cross-Word Puzzle

FOLLIES GIRL

By MARGARET CORHAM NICHOLS

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

When Sherry Ross graduates from the Redfield, Va., high school there is no money to send her to college, so the tall, dark, graceful girl helps around the big house until the local bank fails and her father loses his job. She learns to make her own clothes and makes some summer dresses for a girl from New York, who teaches her to dance. She tells Sherry she has natural ability and says she should be able to get on the stage. Now that Sherry has to do something she becomes what she terms "paid scenery" in the Follies. The show is still in rehearsal and she is sharing a one-room apartment with another Follies girl, little blond, ambitious Janey Vines, whose parents had done a song and dance act for years and now have a chicken farm. Sherry has no men friends in New York, because of her good looks and charming manners. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT V.

"I want to tell you about Hilda," he said.

"I'd rather not hear."

"About my past? It's as bad as you've heard."

"I met her when she came back from Reno in September. I've been going with her since. I was never in the least in love with her."

Sherry listened patiently, looking at the bright flames.

"I was with her a good bit," he continued. "She's witty and amusing when she isn't annoyed. She's good company and she knows a lot of amusing people. But here of late she acts as though she owns me and I have never given her the right to feel that way. I'm in love with you—she's in love with me. There you are, Sherry."

She looked up.

"Tony, what do you people say to all this? They must..."

"They hate it, but I couldn't live their kind of life. I'd die of boredom."

"I've got no right to ask you questions. I've known you about 24 hours, but we've said a great deal in that time. It was just one of those things that happened quickly and finally—with me, I know your reputation. Tony, I know your father pays for all this. I love you," she said, "but it's all very impossible. I've been brought up under a strict code. I could never fit into your—your pattern."

She got up and walked to the window. Tony put down his glass and looked at her—her dress of dull gold, her white arms, her grave profile turned to him.

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

"Tony, please don't let's be serious."

Sherry said as she stood looking out a window. "This is too much to happen at once. Let's be amusing and gay but not involved."

"I've met girls before, just in the show business. They were out for all they could get. You're not like that. Sherry, I've seen them begin, climb to dizzy heights, and end up singing in a cheap night club. I couldn't bear for anything like that to happen to you."

AUNT HET

"I can always make Pa ashamed by complainin' about some pain I've got and then apologizin' for bein' baby enough to mention it."

"That's ridiculous. You're nothing on me."

"Oh, haven't I?" Her blue eyes flashed on Sherry. "Why don't you get wise? You're a nice kid and you've got a future. Murray told me. But playing around with Tony is only for those who've made the grade. There's a neat little story about Tony crashing last New Year's Eve and a certain Follies girl who will never be in a show again. I'll see you again, Tony."

Hilda went out as spectacularly and as sunnily as she had appeared. Tony looked after her gloomily.

Sherry got up. "I'm going home, Tony."

"You don't believe her?"

"Hilda is just a jealous woman," said Sherry. "But there is something in what she said. I think—I think you had better not see me again. No, I'm sorry. I'm not the kind of girl who can shrug her shoulders at things."

"That's ridiculous. You're nothing on me."

"Oh, haven't I?" Her blue eyes flashed on Sherry. "Why don't you get wise? You're a nice kid and you've got a future. Murray told me. But playing around with Tony is only for those who've made the grade. There's a neat little story about Tony crashing last New Year's Eve and a certain Follies girl who will never be in a show again. I'll see you again, Tony."

Hilda went out as spectacularly and as sunnily as she had appeared. Tony looked after her gloomily.

Sherry got up. "I'm going home, Tony."

"You don't believe her?"

"Hilda is just a jealous woman," said Sherry. "But there is something in what she said. I think—I think you had better not see me again. No, I'm sorry. I'm not the kind of girl who can shrug her shoulders at things."

"That's ridiculous. You're nothing on me."

"Oh, haven't I?" Her blue eyes flashed on Sherry. "Why don't you get wise? You're a nice kid and you've got a future. Murray told me. But playing around with Tony is only for those who've made the grade. There's a neat little story about Tony crashing last New Year's Eve and a certain Follies girl who will never be in a show again. I'll see you again, Tony."

Hilda went out as spectacularly and as sunnily as she had appeared. Tony looked after her gloomily.

Sherry got up. "I'm going home, Tony."

"You don't believe her?"

"Hilda is just a jealous woman," said Sherry. "But there is something in what she said. I think—I think you had better not see me again. No, I'm sorry. I'm not the kind of girl who can shrug her shoulders at things."

"That's ridiculous. You're nothing on me."

"Oh, haven't I?" Her blue eyes flashed on Sherry. "Why don't you get wise? You're a nice kid and you've got a future. Murray told me. But playing around with Tony is only for those who've made the grade. There's a neat little story about Tony crashing last New Year's Eve and a certain Follies girl who will never be in a show again. I'll see you again, Tony."

Hilda went out as spectacularly and as sunnily as she had appeared. Tony looked after her gloomily.

Sherry got up. "I'm going home, Tony."

"You don't believe her?"

"Hilda is just a jealous woman," said Sherry. "But there is something in what she said. I think—I think you had better not see me again. No, I'm sorry. I'm not the kind of girl who can shrug her shoulders at things."

"That's ridiculous. You're nothing on me."

"Oh, haven't I?" Her blue eyes flashed on Sherry. "Why don't you get wise? You're a nice kid and you've got a future. Murray told me. But playing around with Tony is only for those who've made the grade. There's a neat little story about Tony crashing last New Year's Eve and a certain Follies girl who will never be in a show again. I'll see you again, Tony."

Hilda went out as spectacularly and as sunnily as she had appeared. Tony looked after her gloomily.

Sherry got up. "I'm going home, Tony."

"You don't believe her?"

"Hilda is just a jealous woman," said Sherry. "But there is something in what she said. I think—I think you had better not see me again. No, I'm sorry. I'm not the kind of girl who can shrug her shoulders at things."

"That's ridiculous. You're nothing on me."

"Oh, haven't I?" Her blue eyes flashed on Sherry. "Why don't you get wise? You're a nice kid and you've got a future. Murray told me. But playing around with Tony is only for those who've made the grade. There's a neat little story about Tony crashing last New Year's Eve and a certain Follies girl who will never be in a show again. I'll see you again, Tony."

Hilda went out as spectacularly and as sunnily as she had appeared. Tony looked after her gloomily.

Sherry got up. "I'm going home, Tony."

"You don't believe her?"

"Hilda is just a jealous woman," said Sherry. "But there is something in what she said. I think—I think you had better not see me again. No, I'm sorry. I'm not the kind of girl who can shrug her shoulders at things."

"That's ridiculous. You're nothing on me."

"Oh, haven't I?" Her blue eyes flashed on Sherry. "Why don't you get wise? You're a nice kid and you've got a future. Murray told me. But playing around with Tony is only for those who've made the grade. There's a neat little story about Tony crashing last New Year's Eve and a certain Follies girl who will never be in a show again. I'll see you again, Tony."

Hilda went out as spectacularly and as sunnily as she had appeared. Tony looked after her gloomily.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

DOCTORS OF DAYS GONE BY.

1.—In Egypt.

Looking back through the mists of the dim and distant ages, let us say that we see a sick man in Egypt. He is making ready to take some medicine, and he utters these words:

"The hair of women will be made to grow by means of its seed. Bray, mix and apply with grease. Let the woman anoint her head with it. Its oil is made from the seed of a plant (with the oil) very early in the morning in order to drive sores away."

The doctors of Egypt were, in general, the priests; and the medical schools were in the temples. There were many "healing temples" in the Nile valley; and remains have been found of statues and tablets which were used by the priests, and as if by miracle. The doctors wore spotless white clothing, and some at least were in the custom of taking a bath "every six hours."

A remedy which was used for stomach trouble was composed of caraway seed, fennel seed and milk. Another was made of pomegranate seed, sycamore figs and beer, the mixture being boiled before it was taken.

To ease stiffness of the neck or other part of the body, a warm grease was applied. The grease was made from hippopotamus fat, crocodile fat, fish fat, incense and honey.

(For history section of your scrapbook.)

If you want the free leaflet, "Questions and Answers About Europe," send a 3-cent stamped, return envelope to me in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Uncle Ray

Tomorrow: "The Father of Medicine."

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Coupon for "Rome and the Olden Romans"

Uncle Ray, Care of The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Uncle Ray: I enclose a 3c stamped envelope carefully addressed to myself. Please send me a copy of the new illustrated leaflet, "Rome and the Olden Romans." There is no charge for the leaflet.

Name .....

Street or Rural Route .....

City and State .....

ATLANTA
The Buying Center of the Southeast

: : ROUND TABLE OF BUSINESS : :

ATLANTA
The Headquarters of Diversified Industry

New York Stock House Invites Inspection of Spring Styles This Week

ATLANTA CONCERN TO EXHIBIT LATEST
IN LADIES' WEARComplete and Varied Array of Newest Modes
Ready for Southern Retailers' Inspection.

Preparations have been completed, the stage has been set, and everything is in readiness at the sales and showrooms of the New York Stock House, 206 Pryor street, for that concern's spring showing of ladies' ready-to-wear and millinery, beginning this morning and continuing through this week.

I. D. Weitz, president of the New York Stock House, has issued a cordial invitation to buyers throughout the southeast to visit his showrooms during this period—designated as Ladies' Ready to Wear and Millinery Week—and to inspect the company's wide variety of offerings for the spring trade.

Mr. Weitz has just returned from New York and the eastern markets, where he personally selected an unusually wide variety of the smartest and most attractive spring styles, which include a complete line of ladies' spring coats, suits and dresses.

In addition to the styles obtained during his eastern trip, Mr. Weitz has completed arrangements with some of the leading manufacturers to carry their complete stocks, which will be offered to the trade at the same prices and on the same terms that New York markets are offering, with the additional advantage of immediate delivery from Atlanta stocks.

"We invite our friends to make the New York Stock House their headquarters when in Atlanta," Mr. Weitz states, "and want them to visit us and see for themselves the large and varied selections we have available for their spring trade."

The New York Stock House carries a complete line of children's dresses in cotton and silk, in a very wide variety of styles.

The company maintains its own factory in connection with its sales and showrooms, where are turned out an average of 3,000 garments a week, thus assuring the retailer of immediate delivery on ladies' ready-to-wear manufactured here. This output constitutes only a part of the New York Stock House's stocks. It does, however, represent up-to-the-minute styles, since Mr. Weitz makes

W. W. Brown Publishing Co.
Assures Quality in Printing

Here Walter W. Brown, executive head of the Walter W. Brown Publishing Company, is shown seated at his desk at his commodious printing and publishing plant at 223 Courtland street, N. E. Careful planning, combined with quality printing, Mr. Brown asserts, provides the key to successful advertising matter.

In these days of improved equipment and processes and of highly specialized craftsmanship, declares Walter W. Brown, executive head of the Walter W. Brown Publishing Company, good printing costs no more than that of mediocre caliber, and the advertiser who fails to avail himself of his printer's long experience and training is remiss in his duty to those who ultimately will receive his printed matter.

"Through good printing," Mr. Brown states, "we mix brains with our type. We apply advertising ingenuity to your selling problems, and frequent trips to the northern and eastern style centers and keeps in constant touch with momentary trends in ladies' apparel.

The New York Stock House's invitation is especially directed to out-of-town retailers who hitherto have made annual trips to the eastern markets, frequently at great expense. The Atlanta concern, he asserts, provides a more quickly accessible source of supply, and it offers the same styles as are found in the east, at the same attractive prices.

"Come to see us during this week—Ladies' Ready-to-Wear and Millinery Week," he says, "and avail yourself of this opportunity to inspect and select the most up-to-the-minute creations and to establish contact with the New York Stock House. It offers a three-fold reputation for service, quality and friendliness."

When You Have TIRE Trouble
CALL
BILL TODD
323 Spring St., N. W.
WA. 8350
DISTRIBUTOR FOR

A SUCCESSFUL, MADE-IN-THE-SOUTH
PRODUCT, FOR OVER 14 YEARS.
HAVE YOUR WORN
TIRES RETREADED
(factory method)ZACHARY INSURANCE AGENCY
SECURITY SERVICE SAVINGS
FIRE AUTOMOBILE MUTUAL INSURANCE R. H. ZACHARY
TORNADO PLATE GLASS TEN FORSYTH STREET BUILDING MA 6673Abbott, Proctor & Paine MEMBERS OF:
New York Stock Exchange
New York Cotton Exchange
New York Curb Exchange
New York Produce Exchange
New York Coffee & Sugar Exchange
New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc.
Chicago Board of Trade
120 BROADWAY
NEW YORK
ATLANTA BRANCH
Ground Floor, Healey Bldg.
WA. 5504-05-06-07MINUTE MAN GARAGE
FRANK M. POWELL
Storage, Repairs, Wrecker Service, Gas, Oil and Certified Lubrication.
Serving Greater Atlanta Since 1919
942-944 Peachtree St., N. E. HE. 0478100,000 Sq. Feet
MORE THAN TWO ACRES!
FLOOR SPACE
Greater Selection
STERCHI'S
Mr. Merchant
You can reach every home in Atlanta direct at small cost with CRUMBLEY delivered
circulars.
Phone WA. 2480The Atlanta Overall Laundry Co.
WORK CLOTHES SPECIALISTS
WE CLEAN 'EM WE REPAIR 'EM
Work Called For and Delivered
472-478 DECATUR ST. WA. 7824FIDELITY MUTUAL
REGISTERS GAIN
OF 240 PER CENTLife Insurance Volume
Shows Steady Advance
Under W. Stanton Hale,
General Agent in Atlanta

Far more than fulfilling expectations, the Atlanta agency of the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, in January, recorded an increase of more than 240 per cent in business over the corresponding month of 1934, according to W. Stanton Hale, its manager. January, he asserts, was the largest business month the agency has experienced in more than three years.

Mr. Hale, who took over the agency November 1, last, attributes its gains not only to a steadily improving business outlook but to unusually hard work and co-operation by the special agents associated with him.

Of these, R. Frank Fraser Jr., led the entire agency in January in the amount of business placed in force. A man of long standing and experience in life insurance, he has been in the business and with Fidelity more than a score of years. During 1934, Mr. Fraser ranked 11th among the leading Fidelity agents in the United States in premiums, and won a place on the company's national honor roll. He already has qualified for membership in the Leaders' Club, whose convention will be held in Atlantic City next September.

Victor Suter, another special agent, was the agency's leader in January in the number of cases submitted—12. He also has qualified for the Leaders' Club, and ranked 48th on the national honor roll during 1934.

John Alvin Easter, ranking seventh for the United States, also has qualified for the Leaders' Club convention.

Mr. Hale, it is announced, will leave within a few days for Philadelphia, seat of the company's head office, where he will attend the annual managers' conference in mid-February and consult with other leading managers and company officers on company plans and problems.

The Atlanta agency, in the last three months, has set up a record of which Mr. Hale is particularly proud. November's business, he states, was an increase of 35 per cent in its roofing business alone during 1934, as compared with 1933, and that during the year his company handled a large number of roofing jobs for cities and counties as well as for the government.

He is chairman of the speakers' bureau of the federal housing administration, Georgia district, and is a staunch supporter of the HOLC and FHA, which, he asserts, have been among the greatest aids to recovery the nation has yet encountered. New building under Title 2 of the housing act, he asserts, and new mortgage loans by the government are destined to prove of substantial further aid in the nation's march toward prosperity again.

The Charles N. Walker Roofing Company, established 27 years ago, has weathered three depressions, Mr. Walker states, during each being able to maintain the same high standard of workmanship and material which has made it one of the most favored concerns in its field. It operates throughout the southeast, and counts among its friends home and building owners throughout the United States. The company's heating department, which includes both furnaces and air conditioning, also enjoyed a splendid year in 1934, with a considerable increase in business shown over 1933. During 1934 the company installed a large number of air-conditioning plants in both business and residential buildings.

In this connection Mr. Walker calls attention to the fact his company has just formed an association with the Sperry Products Company, of Brooklyn, N. Y., which has been installing air conditioning in chain stores, theaters and other business buildings and residences.

"Air conditioning," he asserts, "is one of the coming businesses, and we expect it to increase our volume of business in 1935 very much over that of last year."

That it has proven mutually profitable. This, however, constitutes but a small part of the varied service rendered by the Bill Todd shop, which, by the way, carries at all times a complete line of McClure's tires. It offers an especially attractive retreading service which also is available on a wholesale basis.

The Bill Todd shop is completely equipped for every kind of battery repair and service, and invites inspection of its facilities.

First MORTGAGE LOANS
On Owner Occupied Homes
AT INTEREST RATE AS LOW AS 6%
Monthly Installments As Low As
$7.50
Including Interest and Principal
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS
AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
OF ATLANTA
23 Auburn Ave., N. E.
Walnut 7324
(Formerly First Mutual Building and Loan Assn.)

ERNEST G. BEAUDRY
Authorized Dealer
169-175 Marietta St., N. W. JA. 0445
GOUEDY'S
For Distinctive Direct-Mail Publicity.
MULTIGRAPHING MIMEOGRAPHING
420 RHODES-HAVERY BLDG. WA. 9161-62
Call or Write
Atlanta, Ga.COURTS & CO.
Members New York Stock Exchange
Members New York Cotton Exchange
Associate Members New York Curb Exchange
U. S. GOVERNMENT & MUNICIPAL BONDS
CORPORATE BONDS AND STOCKS
HOME OWNERS LOAN CORP. BONDS
FEDERAL FARM MORTGAGE CORP. BONDS
INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICE
11 Marietta St., N. W., Atlanta Phone WA. 9110BAXTER MADDOX AGENCY
THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO.
RETIREMENT PLANS
With or Without Insurance
1001 C. & S. BLDG. WA. 1825Greaseless Foot-Ease
The minute "B-G-O" touches the sore you feel a cooling, soothing sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin is healed. Try B-G-O and get instant relief from eczema, Ringworm, Itch and Athlete's Foot.
50c and $1.00 a Jar
At All Leading DruggistsROSELLE
"The Hatter"
When buying your new hat, ask your hat man where to have the old one cleaned and renovated.
Prompt Service on Mail Orders
35 FORSYTH ST.
Ground Floor—Palmer BuildingFOOTE & DAVIES CO.
PRINTING
LITHOGRAPHING ENGRAVING
BRIEFS FORMS
OFFICE SUPPLIES
PLANT AT CAPITOL AND MILTON AVES., S.W.
13 EDGEWOOD AVE., S.W.ORIGINAL Waffle Shop
MONDAY NIGHT SPECIAL ..... 30c
Roast Chicken and Choices of Two Vegetables, Hot Biscuits and Drink
62 PRYOR, N. E.
JUST BELOW GARDNER BLDG.
ATLANTA, GA.
OPEN ALL NIGHTHOLLAND TIRE CO., Inc.
Exclusive Distributor
KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRES AND TUBES
28-30 Ivy St. WA. 0700
Ivy St. Garage Bldg.Chas. N. Walker Roofing Co. Is Awarded
Contract for U. S. Base Hospital 48 Work

Two workmen of the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company, 141 Houston street, N. E., may be seen atop United States Base Hospital 48, where they are repairing and replacing worn and obsolete roofs. This is but one of many federal jobs the Walker organization has been awarded in recent months. The company is the sole distributor in this territory for products of the Amalgamated Roofing Company.

Clear recognition of its high standing among concerns of its kind is seen in selection by the federal government of the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company, 141 Houston street, N. E., to re-roof and to recondition many sections of the roofs at Base Hospital No. 48, on Peachtree road near Brookhaven.

Superior workmanship, declares Charles N. Walker, president of the firm bearing his name, is a major consideration in the awarding of federal contracts, and this is borne out by the fact that the Walker organization, in the past, has been given a number of other government jobs of this nature.

The Charles N. Walker Roofing Company, by the way, is the sole distributor in this territory for Locust and Tru-Lok shingles, as well as for other products of the Amalgamated Roofing Company, one of the largest manufacturers of roofing in the country.

Mr. Walker reports his company enjoyed an increase of 35 per cent in its roofing business alone during 1934, as compared with 1933, and that during the year his company handled a large number of roofing jobs for cities and counties as well as for the government.

He is chairman of the speakers' bureau of the federal housing administration, Georgia district, and is a staunch supporter of the HOLC and FHA, which, he asserts, have been among the greatest aids to recovery the nation has yet encountered. New building under Title 2 of the housing act, he asserts, and new mortgage loans by the government are destined to prove of substantial further aid in the nation's march toward prosperity again.

The Charles N. Walker Roofing Company, established 27 years ago, has weathered three depressions, Mr. Walker states, during each being able to maintain the same high standard of workmanship and material which has made it one of the most favored concerns in its field. It operates throughout the southeast, and counts among its friends home and building owners throughout the United States. The company's heating department, which includes both furnaces and air conditioning, also enjoyed a splendid year in 1934, with a considerable increase in business shown over 1933. During 1934 the company installed a large number of air-conditioning plants in both business and residential buildings.

In this connection Mr. Walker calls attention to the fact his company has just formed an association with the Sperry Products Company, of Brooklyn, N. Y., which has been installing air conditioning in chain stores, theaters and other business buildings and residences.

"Air conditioning," he asserts, "is one of the coming businesses, and we expect it to increase our volume of business in 1935 very much over that of last year."

That it has proven mutually profitable. This, however, constitutes but a small part of the varied service rendered by the Bill Todd shop, which, by the way, carries at all times a complete line of McClure's tires. It offers an especially attractive retreading service which also is available on a wholesale basis.

The Bill Todd shop is completely equipped for every kind of battery repair and service, and invites inspection of its facilities.

First MORTGAGE LOANS
On Owner Occupied Homes
AT INTEREST RATE AS LOW AS 6%
Monthly Installments As Low As
$7.50
Including Interest and Principal
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS
AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
OF ATLANTA
23 Auburn Ave., N. E.
Walnut 7324
(Formerly First Mutual Building and Loan Assn.)

AXLE and WHEEL ALIGNMENT
COMPLETE SPRING SERVICE—ELECTRIC WELDING
RALEIGH DRENNON
"Serving Atlanta for 25 Years"
353 WEST PEACHTREE ST., N. E. WA. 1328EAST POINT CHEVROLET CO.
NEW CARS USED CARSMILHOUS, GAINES & MAYES
Southern State, County and Municipal Bonds
BOUGHT—SOLD—QUOTED : : : INQUIRIES INVITED
RHODES-HAVERY BUILDING WEBB CRAWFORD BUILDING
ATLANTA, GEORGIA BIRMINGHAM, ALA.BRUCE TERMINIX
REPORTS ADVANCE
IN TERMITE WORKAtlanta Representative of National Organization
Returns From Memphis Conference Session.

W. H. Sullivan, of Bruce Terminix Company, has just returned from the second annual convention of the Terminix organization, held in Memphis to discuss plans for the war on termites during 1935. The meeting was sponsored by the Terminix division of E. L. Bruce Company, and was attended by more than 100 representatives of 48 licensed companies. This organization, operating in 25 states, is said to be by far the largest of its kind in the world.

According to Mr. Sullivan, it was announced during the convention that Terminix business during 1934 amounted to $750,000, an increase of 38.1 per cent over the previous year. Estimates place the amount of termite damage last year at around 50 million dollars. There was a time, Mr. Sullivan states, when this insect was considered a problem only in the south, but now its costly damage has come to light in all but three states in the country. In some cities, as many as three out of every four buildings are found infested and damaged to some extent.

Real Estate For Rent

Houses for Rent, Unfurnished 77-A
2019 SPRINGDALE RD.—4 bedrooms, two baths, new kitchen, decorated. Samuel Rothberg, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
610 BONAVENTURE AVE., N.E.—6 rms., terrace, 400. Sharp-Reynolds Co., 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
GRANT PARK—Bungalow on Cherokee Ave., facing park, for $55. E. L. Harlow, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
47 DELTA PL., N.E.—12-rm., 2 baths; part furnished. Reas. WA. 2114.
WEST END—6-rm. brick, all convs., furnace. Newly decorated. Mrs. Perry 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.

Office and Desk Sale 78-A

OFFICES Single or en suite, furnished, unfurnished, equipped, convenient to parking, P. O., banking facilities. Apply 610 Peters Bldg., 7 Peachtree St.
SUB-LEASE office space near Peachtree Bldg. Link Bldg. Mr. Watkins, WA. 3111.

Real Estate—Rent or Sale 80-A

NEWLY IMPROVED farm for sale or rent, 175 acres, Gordon Rd., near Austell.
2 E. Wade, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
HOMES, suburban areas, farms, Ben B. Foy, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.

Farms and Lands for Sale 83

50 ACRES and 4-room house, 20 miles from Atlanta 8500. Call RA. 2964.
Houses for Sale 84
North Side.
NEAR Peachtree Rd., 2-story Dutch colonial, 2 baths, 4 bedrooms, steam heat, slate roof. Large shaded lot. Buy on north side. This would keep Mr. Brown, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.

FORECLOSURE BARGAINS

E. L. LANE, 6-RM. BRICK.....$3,500
NO. 102, 6-RM. BRICK.....$3,500
E. ATLANTA, 6-RM. BRICK.....$2,000
JOHN J. THOMPSON & CO., WA. 3035.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS?

OWNER leaving city, sacrificing modern 6-rm. brick, perfect condition, near city schools, stores. A STEAL for someone and on easy terms. J. J. Thompson & Co., WA. 3035.

SALES—RENTS—INSURANCE

PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Adair Realty & Loan Co.

HEALY BLDG.

NORTH SIDE SPECIAL.

$4,300—2-story brick, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, full bath, easy. Mr. Head, HE. 6231 or WA. 3111. Cash, Howell & Dodd.

West End.

WEST END PARK—6-RM. BRICK. STEAM HEAT. $4,500. WA. 3570.

Miscellaneous.

6 ROOM HOUSE, Central Bldg. Bargain. Cash or terms. 1221 First National Bank Bldg.

Lots for Sale 85

500 ACRES, balance 100 mostly, lot 50x170. MARTIN, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
CASH, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.

Property for Colored 86

LOTS—40x150 Washington Park, near Scotland, $20,000. 425 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.

Suburban—For Sale 87

6 ROOMS—2 acres, very convenient—frontage, excellent. Cheap. Owner leaving. A. C. Carter, 2405 N. Peachtree St., N.E. 2235.
NEW frame, 500 sq. ft. bath, car and electric service. Mr. Minney, WA. 3165.

To Exchange Real Estate 88

250-acre farm 9 mi. from Forsyth, Ga., 3 small houses, pasture, peach, 35,000; also beautiful view on highway, drive, look at rates, all conveniences, shanty, school and stores, only $1,500; both free of debt. Own or also has little cash, consider trade. WA. 6027. Ralph B. Martin.

Wanted—Real Estate 89

100 HOMES, BUILDING LOTS, AND INVESTMENT PROPERTIES FOR CLIENTS. JOHN A. WHITE, 1312 HEALY BLDG., WA. 7876.

Auction Sales 90

OUR auction sale held on Pharr, Wines and Howell road, Jan. 29, was most successful. All property sold for cash. Re-suits count. If you have property to sell see Johnson Auction Co., WA. 7007.

Classified Display

Beauty Aids

RYCKELEY'S FAMOUS WAVES

$1.50
The installation ceremony will be conducted by Commissioner Edward J. Parker, national secretary of the Salvation Army in the United States, whose headquarters is in New York. The chairman for the meeting will be Robert E. Maddox, president of the Atlanta Community Chest, and Brigadier Ernest R. Holz, principal of the Salvation Army training college.

CROQUIGNOLE OIL WAVE $2.50

Combination Spiral and Croquignole $3 AND $5
RYCKELEY'S
691 Whitehall St. JA. 7087

Shoe Repairing

SPECIAL 39c

Genuine Leather Ladies' Heels, 14c
ECONOMY SHOE SHOP
Cor. Broad and Alabama Streets
UNDER JACOBS

Building Information

IF YOU WANT TO BUILD:

Your government makes it easy. Get reliable, unbiased and logical suggestions and ways to build at lowest cost. Communicate with the Federal Bureau of Building Information, Ten Fourth Street Bldg., Office 231, Atlanta, GA. 2718.

Electrical Contracting

STILL LOOKING AT YOU

C. A. Puckett
At Buckhead
HOUSE WIRING REPAIR WORK ELECTRICAL FIXTURES
See Me for "Better Lighting"
18 Roswell Rd.
CH. 3522
RES. CH. 1988

DAILY SHORT STORY

MOTOR REFLEX

Jim Wheeler Turned to His Car for Consolation After His Failure in Business.

BY FLETCHER D. SLATER.

Jim Wheeler loved his car. An almost human friendship it was, born of solitary days at the wheel, of solitary hours under the car's tinkering. So when his unexpected business failure came it was natural that he should turn to his car.

He stole from the house after brooding late in his study. He was sure every one was asleep, unless Mary, his wife, should still be tossing with worry. Tomorrow her worries would be over, thanks to the insurance.

He unlocked the garage door. Sliding through he eased the door shut he caulked, and his movements lost some of their tautness.

He approached the front of the car, this time with finality. One foot on the running board, he turned and swept the place with a glance. He nodded ever so slightly and thought of the unions above and below and opened the car door.

How did you like this story? The author would like to know your reaction and would appreciate your views on the story. Write to Fletcher D. Slater, Editor, author of car of short story editor of The Constitution.

Seating himself behind the familiar wheel, he uncranked the glass window. There, that was better. He hunched over the wheel. He stuck an elbow out of the window and rested it naturally on the steering wheel. He thought of the unions above and below and opened the car door.

Then he settled back in his seat. "I've got to have light! I can't see in the dark."

At the thought his hands clenched on the wheel. But in a moment he remembered and opened his eyes wide to dispel the dream, let the light of the sun strike him. Gradually his grip returned and reality took hold of his mind once more.

As he pulled out the choke and stopped on the starter pedal he did not think "I must be brave!" Rather he thought, "I wonder if I will go quickly." He hoped he need not suffer dying, horrible dreams and fan-fancies before the insidious gas called monoxide washed out his blood.

The motor leaped into life. Jim leaned over the dashboard, nurturing, coaxing with the choke lever until a rich, full-throated purr answered him. He settled back with a sigh, in which there was strangely mixed with the content born of his mad resolve.

Ah, but what was that? He bent down, his ear alert. There it was again, a deep frown on his face, his brows knitted, his nerves were supersensitized.

He throttled the engine down and climbed out. Humming, he tested each cylinder with a screwdriver on the spark plug.

He located the knocking member and turned off the ignition. "I'll fix it first. I can't go with the engine knocking."

Gingerly he climbed into the greasy jammers. He lacked the front and he stifled a scream in his throat as he stumbled for the button. Light again flooded the place, and Jim hung a to a stiffening shock. Gosh, what a tool he was!

In a moment he felt the blood flowing once more through his arteries. He looked to the window. No telltale cracks were there now, he nodded satisfied.

He started once more for the car, then halted. "Where's my head?" he muttered, and returned to the side door.

He squinted at the sill critically. "I don't think . . . but I'd better make sure."

Ludicrously he knelt down, first blowing a space clean for his knees. He ventured under the door and apparently was not satisfied, for he rose. A pile of rags lay close at hand and he fell to stuffing the crack under the door, then the one under the big double doors. The lines of his strained, tired face loosened as he made a job for himself.

When they woke him in the morning from a stiff and oil-soaked slumber he knew it must have been a bad dream. But there were no rags under the doors and the window shade was pulled down.

Tomorrow, "S. as in Sap," by A. L. Denton, tells what one aspiring young newspaperman stooped to in making a job for himself.

PROGRAM PLANNED TO GREET NEW HEAD OF SALVATION ARMY

A public welcome meeting for Commissioner and Mrs. Ernest I. Pagniere, who have come to Atlanta to take charge of the Salvation Army in 15 southern states, will be held at the territorial headquarters building, 54 Ellis street, at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

This will be the first installation of a territorial leader since General Evangeline Booth left the country for England to assume her position as general and international leader of the army.

The installation ceremony will be conducted by Commissioner Edward J. Parker, national secretary of the Salvation Army in the United States, whose headquarters is in New York. The chairman for the meeting will be Robert E. Maddox, president of the Atlanta Community Chest, and Brigadier Ernest R. Holz, principal of the Salvation Army training college.

Speakers who will welcome the commissioner to Atlanta are: Rev. Robert W. Burns, president of the Evangelical Ministers' Association of Atlanta; Robert E. Maddox, president of the Atlanta Community Chest, and Brigadier Ernest R. Holz, principal of the Salvation Army training college.

WHEN YOU NEED A LAXATIVE

Take Sargon Soft Mass Pills, the mild but very effective treatment designed to give relief from constipation and biliousness by stimulating the flow of bile from the liver, thus cleansing the system in a natural way. They are pleasant to take, leave no bad after effects and are not habit forming. Act as Nature's assistant in keeping you well.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills are for sale by all good drug stores.

Coal

We Deliver All Over Atlanta

Fancy Ky. Block .....$7.00
Fancy Ky. Egg .....$6.75
No. 1 Rich, mine run.....$6.00
100-lb. bag, each .....50c

Chiles Coal Co.

West End WA. 2716 North Side MA. 1151

United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D. C., January 31, 1935. SEALED BIDDINGS will be received at the office of the Supervising Engineer, Chattanooga-Oakton National Military Park, Room 211 New Post Office Building, Georgia Avenue, between 30th and 32nd Streets, Chattanooga, Tennessee, until 11 o'clock a. m., February 21, 1935, for the construction of Project 7A2, bridge over East Chickamauga Creek, on Ringgold Road, near Ringgold, Catoosa County, Georgia. The length is approximately 135 feet. Major quantities involved approximately 90 cu. yd. excavation; 140 cu. yd. concrete; 100,000 lb. structural steel; 22,000 lb. reinforcing steel; 162 cu. yd. cement; rubble masonry; 60 cu. yd. hand-laid rock embankment; 500 cu. yd. borrow. When the specifications are requested a deposit of $100.00 by certified check or cash will be required to insure their return within 30 days after opening of bids. Checks should be made payable to U. S. Department of Agriculture. Plans, specifications, and proposal forms may be obtained at the office of the Bureau of Public Roads, 127 Duke Building, 11th and P Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., or at the office of the Bureau of Public Roads, Gallatin, Tennessee.

CREDIT MEN TO HEAR ADDRESS BY TREGOE

J. Harry Tregoe, leader in the national organization of credit men, will be the guest Thursday and Friday of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men, and will deliver two lectures in Atlanta.

He also will be entertained by the credit men's association at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Friday at the Atlanta Athletic Club. Tregoe, who resides in New York, was formerly president and executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men, and for three years was professor of finance at the University of Southern California.

He has written a number of books on credit economics and is at present on a lecture tour, visiting the larger credit associations in the United States.

Speech Arts Club will discuss "Heroes" when it meets at 6 o'clock Tuesday night at the Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression. The public is invited.

Baptist ministers will attend the conference at 10 o'clock this morning at the first Baptist church, W. B. Carr, secretary, announced.

Traffic Club of Atlanta will hold its monthly meeting at 12:15 o'clock this evening at the Atlanta Athletic Club. A constitutional amendment will be considered as the club greets the new officers elected at the annual banquet.

Charles D. Redwine, president of the Georgia senate, will be the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Men of Justice, at 8 o'clock tonight at the assembly rooms, 1214 Mortgage Guarantee building, Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of Normal schools, will introduce President Redwine.

Mrs. Arthur D. Kidd of 210 Hutchins street, was admitted to Grady hospital Sunday afternoon for treatment of injuries received when a cow broke her. Mrs. Kidd said she was leaving over in a field near her home

Italian Opera Premiere Brings 17 Curtain Calls

NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 3.—(UP)—A new opera, "L'Idolo," by Giuseppe Mulle, was given a thunderous welcome here tonight in the San Carlo theater, where it had its world premiere. The author, conducting, was given six curtain calls at the end of the first act, six at the second and five at the close. The libretto was taken from the Pirandello drama of the same name.

BAITED SLAN IN EXCLUSIVE CLUB

Former Show Girl-Widow Ordered Held After Eerie Crime Is Bared.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—(UP)—Louis K. Straub, 45, bartender at the swanky Saddle and Cycle Club, was found mysteriously slain early today and a few hours later his widow, a former show-girl, was ordered held for the inquest.

Also detained by state's attorney's investigators was the caretaker at the exclusive North Side Club, who with the widow, Helen, 34, reported finding the bullet-riddled body in a basement closet of the club, and her girl-friend, Miss Ella Elin.

Assistant State's Attorney Morris G. Meyer said there were discrepancies in some of the stories told as to the time and the exact circumstances of finding the body. Straub, he said, carried $10,000 insurance with a double indemnity feature in case of violent death.

Straub had been killed by a .38-caliber pistol. Three slugs in the back, three through the left cheek, one in the forehead and another in the chest testified to the extraordinary measures the assassin took to insure the victim's death.

Authorities could advance no motive. Straub's empty wallet—and contained about $20—was lying on his body, but neither his watch nor the club safe had been touched. Police believed the slayer may have taken Straub's money to give the murderer all the earmarks of a bandit's crime.

Straub's widow, Helen, told police she had telephoned her husband about 1:30 a. m. and went to meet him at the club about 2 a. m. She said she found the place locked and dark. Rousing his near-by lodgings, she said she found the club and with the gruesome find, Schwarz corroborated her story. Mrs. Straub blamed her hysteria for failure to notify officials until 3:45 a. m.

Defectives were puzzled as to how Straub had met death inside the locked club. Only members are admitted. Miss Dorothy Weig, niece of a club-member, said she had entertained five guests there and that they left at 1:10 a. m., leaving the bartender alone.

Earnest Straub, manager of the club and brother of the slain man, said he and the waiter, William Kipping, had left at 9 p. m. None of those questioned could shed any light on the enigma.

Straub had been employed as night bartender for 12 years. He worked as a collector for the Commonwealth Edison Company during the day. He apparently had no known enemies.

Police ordered the widow held for the inquest, scheduled for Monday, and as their investigation continued they said the case became more baffling.

Straub, born in Denver, formerly lived in Hot Springs, Ark.

SALES TAX, LIQUOR

By the Associated Press.

Sales tax and liquor today presented the most perplexing problems facing law-making bodies of six southern states.

All preliminaries, and in some instances the public opinion polls, already completed, these proposals provided a full week of verbal battles and close voting.

Revenue and appropriation bills also were given right-of-way in some state houses.

In building the ground floor for sessions which likely will be recorded as among the most important in history legislators in these half dozen commonwealths were anything but idle.

Here's the high spot record of work already done:

SOUTH CAROLINA—$7,165,442 appropriation bill passed in record time in house with speedy action in senate expected. House also passed county control liquor bill.

NORTH CAROLINA—Joint finance and appropriations committees expect have ready for introduction some important revenue measures. Retention of 3 per cent sales tax (emergency legislation) main issue before committee.

ARKANSAS—Two per cent sales tax problem consumed most of time in senate as one of amendments to appropriation bill estimated $4,250,000 revenue created dissent. House passed bill designed to prevent wholesale sale poll tax buying, and bill changing liquor license from annual to biennial.

ALABAMA—Prohibition referendum submitted for vote February 29. Highway personnel increased. Passed 11 New Deal bills suggested by national administration. Extended 1-cent gallon gasoline tax expiring October 1 for indefinite period. Gave out right to liquor license to non-residents without payment of tax.

TENNESSEE—Senate passed bills enabling cities and counties to acquire electric distribution plants and contract with the Tennessee Valley Authority for power. Sales tax and liquor measure, not yet introduced, causing considerable controversy.

FULTON MEDICAL BODY TO HEAR DR. BIERRING

Dr. Walter L. Bierring, president of the American Medical Association, who is a nationally known author and lecturer on medical subjects, will speak here tonight at the Academy of Medicine, on Prescott street, as the guest of the Fulton County Medical Society.

His address will begin at 8 o'clock.

Long noted for his papers on diseases of the heart, Dr. Bierring is commissioner of public health in the state of Iowa, and resides in Des Moines. He is professor of pathology and bacteriology and professor of medicine at the Iowa State University, having formerly been a member of the medical faculty of Drake University.

His career has been distinguished and his work is recognized throughout the medical profession. He is a member of the national board of medical examiners and of President Roosevelt's medical advisory committee.

Bierring is to arrive in Atlanta this afternoon and will be the guest of the Fulton county society during his visit. Dr. Edgar D. Shanks will be the host for the evening, at which Dr. Bierring is expected to talk on organization of the medical profession.

The national association's president will address the medical students of Emory University Tuesday morning before he returns to his home in Des Moines.

When Bossy got playful and butted her.

Burglars Sunday afternoon entered the home of E. R. Segers, at 750 Lexington street, S. W., and took clothing valued at more than $125, according to police reports.

Suitcase containing clothing valued at $150 was stolen from an automobile which Miss Jean L. Maley, of 500 S. W. 13th street, was driving in front of 253 Peachtree street.

Thomas Gotchell, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gotchell, of 552 Parkway drive, N. E., was admitted to Grady hospital Sunday night after it had been discovered the child had eaten a quantity of ammoniated mercury ointment with which he was playing in his home.

J. T. Roberts, 1060 Oak street, S. W., was held up and robbed by two negro thugs Sunday night at Butler street near Coca-Cola place as he was going to work for Grady hospital.

Roy Riley, 20, of 835 Wheeler street, was treated for a gash on the jaw and Miss Hazel Nash, 18, of 1008 Hampton street, was treated at Grady hospital for laceration on the scalp, received Sunday night when their automobile was sideswiped by a hit-and-run driver on the Howell Mill road.

Cross Sections in South's Gate City

Baby health centers will be held at 1:30 o'clock on the afternoons listed for children under four years of age. It was announced by P. K. Kennedy, city health officer; Tuesday, Adair school; Wednesday, John Barclay nursery; Thursday, Grant Park school; Friday at the James L. Key school.

J. L. Pickett, of 922 Stewart avenue, S. W., was treated at Grady hospital early Sunday morning for a scalp laceration received when the automobile in which he was riding with J. E. Cochran, of 822 Stewart avenue, collided with a car driven by P. K. Kennedy, of 822 Stewart avenue, and a mobile driven by J. F. Warren, of Albany, Ga. Both automobiles were badly wrecked.

Hapeville police Sunday night were investigating the theft of two automobiles there sometime Sunday. Miss Ora Appling, of 1200 N. Peachtree street, and two fast cab boys, the Manhattan and the Washington.

The Leviathan, now tied up at Hoboken, would be kept in condition for wartime use.

Navy officials said they hoped to get money for the new auxiliaries from the $4,000,000,000 war relief appropriation, although they did not exclude the possibility of raising money by modernization might have first call on funds from this source. Navy officials said they had approved shipping board plans for cabin passenger boats, freighters, refrigerated ships, and tankers, of 100,000 barrels capacity making 16 knots.

Officials said no shipping board funds were now available for modernization, but that legislation probably would be sought either to authorize construction grants or operating subsidies. Extensive new legislation cannot be expected without some form of government aid, they said.

Construction grants would be to make up the difference between building costs here and abroad, one official said. Studies thus far have placed the differential at around 30 per cent.

CREDIT MEN TO HEAR ADDRESS BY TREGOE

J. Harry Tregoe, leader in the national organization of credit men, will be the guest Thursday and Friday of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men, and will deliver two lectures in Atlanta.

He also will be entertained by the credit men's association at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Friday at the Atlanta Athletic Club. Tregoe, who resides in New York, was formerly president and executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men, and for three years was professor of finance at the University of Southern California.

He has written a number of books on credit economics and is at present on a lecture tour, visiting the larger credit associations in the United States.

Speech Arts Club will discuss "Heroes" when it meets at 6 o'clock Tuesday night at the Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression. The public is invited.

Baptist ministers will attend the conference at 10 o'clock this morning at the first Baptist church, W. B. Carr, secretary, announced.

Traffic Club of Atlanta will hold its monthly meeting at 12:15 o'clock this evening at the Atlanta Athletic Club. A constitutional amendment will be considered as the club greets the new officers elected at the annual banquet.

Charles D. Redwine, president of the Georgia senate, will be the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Men of Justice, at 8 o'clock tonight at the assembly rooms, 1214 Mortgage Guarantee building, Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of Normal schools, will introduce President Redwine.

Mrs. Arthur D. Kidd of 210 Hutchins street, was admitted to Grady hospital Sunday afternoon for treatment of injuries received when a cow broke her. Mrs. Kidd said she was leaving over in a field near her home

Italian Opera Premiere Brings 17 Curtain Calls

NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 3.—(UP)—A new opera, "L'Idolo," by Giuseppe Mulle, was given a thunderous welcome here tonight in the San Carlo theater, where it had its world premiere. The author, conducting, was given six curtain calls at the end of the first act, six at the second and five at the close. The libretto was taken from the Pirandello drama of the same name.

BAITED SLAN IN EXCLUSIVE CLUB

Former Show Girl-Widow Ordered Held After Eerie Crime Is Bared.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—(UP)—Louis K. Straub, 45, bartender at the swanky Saddle and Cycle Club, was found mysteriously slain early today and a few hours later his widow, a former show-girl, was ordered held for the inquest.

Also detained by state's attorney's investigators was